In farm coveralls or dressed up for the races, Country Life works hard at the horse business, with the understanding that today's opportunities require a blended approach.

In our BREEDING PARTNERSHIPS, we often access mid-level commercial Kentucky stallions. NEXT EPISODE just visited Ashford Stud's 2021 Champion 2YO CORNICHE for a $15,000 stud fee; his first-crop of 107 juveniles race this year.

In our RACING PARTNERSHIPS, we seize opportunities. Md-breds becoming Virginia-certified presently at the Middleburg Training Center are our 2yos AMENDALOUN (by Mandaloun), JENNYFROMTHEBLOCK (by Practical Joke), and MCKINZIE'S WAR (by McKinzie).

In our state-of-the-art foaling barn, we deliver future Maryland-breds, whether KY-sired or MD-sired. Watch our popular Foal-Cam at www.countrylifefarm.com

In our breeding shed, we support our three veteran stallions: DIVINING ROD (by Tapit), FRIESAN FIRE (by A.P. Indy), and MOSLER (by War Front). MD-sired, MD-breds foals earn 33.6% breeder bonuses – 40% more than out-of-state-sired. And ask about the MHBA's 2026 MD Broodmare Incentive Program.

THE RACING BIZ

The Independent Voice for Mid-Atlantic Racing and Breeding

Is Maryland racing in "best place" in eight years? So said Maryland Stadium Authority executive vice-president Gary McGuigan to the Maryland Racing Commission in February. Frank Vespe reports.

Possibly reaching the right destination in Maryland: What's remarkable about the shambolic demise of the Maryland Thoroughbred Racetrack Operating Authority is it may reach the right conclusion after all, opines Vespe.

N.J. breeders, horsemen hammer out days agreement: After New Jersey breeders balked at a proposal allowing Monmouth Park to slash days, they and state horsemen have reached an accord reports Linda Dougherty.

Remembering "Both King Leatherburys": The King beat 'em, then left 'em laughing, remembers Eclipse Award-winning writer Vinnie Perrone, who covered the Hall of Famer for decades.

U.S. wagering handle down 6 percent in troubled January: January figures underscore the vulnerability of the U.S. racing economy to weather disruptions and a compressed racing calendar.

Healthy Moonlit Notion back to winning ways: Knocked out for months by digestive problems, ultra-consistent West Virginia-bred Moonlit Notion won his first start of 2026 and his first since last May. Ted Black reports.

Colonial Downs set for second March meet in Virginia

By Tom Law

Frank Hopf needed a few moments to think about the logistics of putting on a spring meet at a track long positioned as a summer racing destination. He wound up allowing himself even less than that.

"Putting on a three-day meet in March at Colonial Downs, when I was asked my thoughts on it, it took me a couple seconds to think about everything that needed to get done," said Hopf, the Virginia racetrack's senior director of racing operations since early 2023. "My first response was, 'Let's get this done.' "

The team at Colonial got it done, staging the first Kentucky Derby-G1 and Kentucky Oaks-G1 points races in Virginia history as part of a three-day stand in March. The slate produced a reported record and sold-out crowd of more than 8,000 for Virginia Derby Day, which also featured total handle of $6,540,489.

Officials from Colonial and Churchill Downs, which bought the track in 2022, called the concept a success and they bring it back for 2026. The three-day meet will go March 12-14, with the $500,000 Virginia Derby and $200,000 Virginia Oaks the centerpieces on the final day.

"There certainly are a lot of challenges, a lot of things that have to go into a plan and preparation," Hopf said. "We had enough time and were able to put together a plan to try to add some elements to Colonial, with seating, hospitality and experience opportunities. We were pleased with how that part turned out. We had a good marketing push and people in the area and region responded very well with a lot of excitement."

The 2025 meet featured two cards with eight races apiece and the 10-race final program. All run on the dirt main track, the races attracted 152 starters, or field sizes of 5.85 per race.

Eventual 2025 Eclipse Award-winning male sprinter Book'em Danno's presence in the $100,000 Boston, a Virginia-restricted handicap at 7 furlongs, hurt that average. Book'em Danno defeated just two foes in the Boston after eight scratches from the overnight. Two other races – a $100,000 Virginia-restricted allowance at 5½ furlongs and an open $85,000 optional claimer at 6 furlongs – on the Thursday card featured just four runners.

The Virginia Derby, won by American Promise for the late D. Wayne Lukas, featured a field of seven; while Fondly's win in the Oaks came over five foes.

The preps did their part as both runners made the starting gate in Kentucky. The Derby/Oaks card included four races with five starters.

Colonial's racing office, led by racing secretary Dan Bork, juiced up the program with hopes of luring more runners this year. Two $100,000 open 1-mile stakes for older runners were added to the Saturday card – the Sandy Bottom for fillies and mares, and the Royal New Kent. The $150,000 Stellar Wind and $150,000 Boston – both overnight handicaps for Virginia-restricted runners – return on the Friday card. Thursday includes the new $100,000 Golden Horseshoe Handicap, a 1⅜-mile test for older horses.

"Last year we only had the two open stakes, the Derby and the Oaks, so adding some other races hopefully will be a way to entice trainers to look at those races and maybe put another horse or two on the van and ship them in," Hopf said. "We want to give them more opportunities to come here. That was the thought process."

The 2025 spring meet included runners from 73 trainers. Nine sent out five or more at the meet, with Mid-Atlantic conditioners accounting for eight of those spots. Jamie Ness (nine), Brittany Russell (eight) and Mike Trombetta (six) led the way with Jerry Robb, Robbie Bailes, Peter Eurton, Rodolfo Sanchez-Salomon, Hugh McMahon and Lynn Ashby rounding out the group.

Brad Cox ran four horses and won three races, while other "out-of-town" conditioners Tom Amoss, Ken McPeek, Saffie Joseph Jr., Bob Baffert and Steve Asmussen also participated. Cox's three wins led the way, while Russell, Anthony Farrior and Steve Klesaris won a pair of races to finish in a tie for second.

"I participated in a couple maiden races, and an allowance race," said Trombetta, based mainly in Maryland at Fair Hill and Laurel Park. "My recollection of it was it was pretty competitive and difficult. Brad Cox ran a couple really high-end maidens and they did their thing. I didn't expect it to be easy, that's for sure, and it wasn't."

Trombetta said he'd most likely return for the 2026 spring meet, with runners that fit the conditions and might otherwise have to wait for the summer.

"It is nice to have that opportunity to have Virginia-breds or Virginia-restricted to maybe get something going with them if they're dirt horses, versus having to wait until the end of June or July," Trombetta said. "It's another good opportunity if you have horses that fit the program, somewhere along the line that maybe don't fit somewhere else, it's nice to get that opportunity to run."

Tickets went on sale Nov. 11 and the roughly 2,000 seating and dining options for Virginia Derby Day sold out around the New Year. General admission passes for $5 and a "Loaded GA" tickets, which include food and drink vouchers, were available in mid-February.

Marketing efforts ramped up at the start of 2026 and continued when the track announced a new look Feb. 12. The changes include new branding, logo and digital presence in advance of the March meet and a record 45-day summer stand which starts June 25.

Hopf hopes the efforts by the marketing and racing departments lead to successful spring and summer seasons.

"There seems to be a lot of enthusiasm for it," Hopf said. "We've made it an affordable event to come out to. We're really trying to get people to the track and see our equine athletes and make it an event for the Richmond-Central Virginia area. A big part of it is the second time around. We're trying to get on everyone's radar and this meet is interesting in itself. Having Dan Bork as our racing secretary and his connections with Churchill, he's talking to everyone over there quite a bit . . . We have some team members that work in the summer, they're down in Florida and they certainly talk about the meet and most trainers are aware of it. The regional trainers that we have, we certainly listen to their input on what it will take to make the three-day meet successful."

Champs sport a few regional ties

Book'em Danno flew the Mid-Atlantic's flag at January's Eclipse Awards ceremony in Florida as he became the second New Jersey-bred to win an Eclipse.

The 2025 champion sprinter joins Open Mind, champion 2-year-old filly of 1988 and 3-year-old filly the following year for breeder Due Process Stables. The Garden State champions, pre-Eclipse Awards, included Blue Sparkler (champion older female of 1956), Cavalcade (2-year-old of 1933, 3-year-old and Horse of the Year of 1934) and Regret (3-year-old of 1915).

A handful of 2025 champions flashed some regional ties, including Horse of the Year and 3-year-old male champion Sovereignty.

Bred in Kentucky by owner Godolphin, the son of Into Mischief is out of Pennsylvania-bred mare Crowned. The unraced daughter of Bernardini and the Empire Maker mare Mushka was bred by Betty Moran's Brushwood Stable.

Two-year-old male champion Ted Noffey traces to Maryland-bred Oceana, his fifth dam. A foal of 1983, the daughter or Northern Dancer and the New Providence mare South Ocean was bred by E.P. Taylor of Windfields Farm.

Oceana's foals included successful Japanese racehorse and South Korean stallion Biwa Shinseiki. Oceana's dam South Ocean also produced Maryland-breds Limbo Dancer, Northern State, Sevastopol, South Sea Dancer and Stormette. South Ocean's Canadian-bred foals included champion and Grade 1 winner Northernette and champion European 2-year-old and influential sire Storm Bird.

Pennsylvanians Roy and Gretchen Jackson of Lael Stables won an Eclipse with female turf runner She Feels Pretty. The Jacksons won an Eclipse as outstanding owner of 2006, the year their Barbaro won the Kentucky Derby-G1.

Maryland-based Yedsit Hazlewood finished second in the voting for leading apprentice jockey. Maryland-bred Splendora finished second in the voting for champion female sprinter and third for older dirt female.

Scheduled

Thirty-six stakes for its 2026 meet, New Jersey's Monmouth Park. The track's 81st season starts May 9 and runs 49 days through Sept. 13 with the traditional headliner, the $1-million Haskell Stakes-G1 for 3-year-olds, set for July 18. That card will include the Molly Pitcher and United Nations, $500,000 Grade 2 stakes; and the $350,000 Monmouth Cup-G3, $300,000 Matchmaker-G3 and the $100,000 Wolf Hill. Other New Jersey Thoroughbred dates include nine turf-only days at the Meadowlands and the one-day steeplechase meet at Far Hills in October. In late January, the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey and Monmouth operator Darby Development agreed on an amended bill before the state legislature that would allow the live racing dates to be reduced to 25 if Monmouth does not receive its $10 million purse subsidy from the state. If the subsidy decreases to $5 million, the minimum dates can be reduced to 40. The subsidy is in place for 2026.

Received

Two honorable mentions in the 2025 Eclipse Awards for journalism, Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred magazine. Editor Joe Clancy's coverage of the Preakness Stakes in the July 2025 edition was recognized in the news/enterprise writing category won by the Paulick Report's Natalie Voss. Clancy's brother Sean, a magazine contributor, also received an honorable mention for coverage of the 2025 Travers Stakes in The Saratoga Special. Photographer Scott Serio's image of a foggy morning training session at Pimlico Race Course, also published in July, was recognized in the photography category won by Skip Dickstein of the Albany Times-Union and BloodHorse.

Scheduled

Seventy-five days of live racing for 2026, Delaware Park. Opening Day is set for Wednesday, May 13 with racing through Saturday, Oct. 17. The Delaware Thoroughbred Racing Commission approved the schedule that includes racing Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday in May and June (except May 14, special Friday card May 29); Wednesday through Saturday in July; Thursday through Saturday in August through October (no racing Sept. 4, special cards Sept. 9 and Oct. 14). The meet will include several starter bonuses to owners and trainers based on stabling dates. For bonus details, call the racing office at (302) 994-2521 ext. 7213. The Delaware Derby and Delaware Oaks-G3 are set for Saturday, June 13, with the Delaware Handicap-G3 lined up for Saturday, Sept. 26 as part of $4.3 million stakes program.

The 2026 edition of The Jockey Club's Fact Book, with the pages in the breeding section updated daily. "Having the breeding pages of the Fact Book update daily provides industry professionals – and anyone interested – with real-time insight into the current state of Thoroughbred breeding," said Rick Bailey, registrar of The Jockey Club. "Next, we're focused on upgrading the racing statistics to refresh on a consistent and timely basis." The online Fact Book is a statistical and informational guide to Thoroughbred breeding, racing and auction sales in North America and can be found in the Resources section of jockeyclub.com. The 2026 state Fact Books, which feature detailed breeding, racing and auction sales information specific to numerous states, Canadian provinces, and Puerto Rico, are also available and updated monthly.

Increased

Purses for 2026, Penn National Race Course, for its 55th racing season which started Feb. 19 and will feature 105 days through Nov. 25. Coming off the longest scheduled shutdown in the track's history (the last live race of 2025 was Dec. 19), the 2026 meet will be highlighted by the $400,000 Penn Mile-G3 May 29. Racing will be conducted on Thursdays and Fridays for the first four weeks, with Wednesdays added March 18. The schedule includes a four-week break in September, with a restart of Oct. 7, and a return to three days a week through Nov. 25. Post time

Early foal finds footing at Equistar

A little bit earlier and he would have been a yearling the day after he was born.

The Mid-Atlantic's first Thoroughbred foal – perhaps the nation's – arrived on New Year's Day when a bay colt slid into the world at Pennsylvania's Equistar Training and Breeding.

Broodmare Symphonys Overture, carried the foal 318 days – weeks short of full term and a potential calamity in terms of his health and Jockey Club registration as all Thoroughbreds officially turn another year older Jan. 1. Equistar knew the colt might be early.

"We started treating the mare in November for a bad case of placentitis," said Equistar's Rodney Eckenrode of an infection in the mare's placenta. "She was basically checking at 13 or 14 months but wasn't to 10 months yet then. That's how much inflammation was there."

Bred to Smarty Jones Feb. 17, 2025, Symphonys Overture was supposed to foal somewhere around Jan. 26. In December, her milk started to come in and Eckenrode started pondering scenarios for owner Charles Asensio – none of them good.

"I never thought we would make it to 2026, and I didn't think we would have a live foal," he said. "There's not much we could have done other than what we did, treat her and hope for the best. Normal development for lungs and their joints (hocks and knees mostly) is 320 to 322 days. I like them to be in the 340-342 range."

Symphonys Overture's colt snuck beyond 2025 to be on par with his fellow crop members and has, thus far, dodged any health issues despite the early arrival. His joints look good on X-rays. His lungs are normal. He stands, nurses, follows his mom's cues and looks sharp in a sporty blue blanket with white trim. He even made friends with Curtis the Labrador Retriever.

"Right now, you'd never know the difference between him and a foal born at full term," Eckenrode said. "He wasn't real small, just averaged-sized and I don't like great, big foals for a mare's first one anyway. That's hard on them. He's doing great."

Maryland

The colt, nicknamed "Three Eighteen," was going to be a winter baby either way, but he arrived in the middle of a season that has made the Mid-Atlantic feel like Manitoba. Equistar works around the conditions with mini blankets for the foals and an indoor arena for some safe – and snow-free – exercise, turnout time and variety.

"I'll walk the mares in there for the first four or five days because I don't want them to do too much after foaling anyway, but it's been a big help this year," said Eckenrode. "We walk the mare around so she gets moving and let the babies do what they want to do. Some run off, some are clingy, it all depends."

By Feb. 7, Equistar was up to six foals on the farm including the first for stallion Zozos. Bred by Barry and Joni Butzow, who campaigned Zozos, the filly is out of the Tapiture mare Isthatyourharley and – like the others – arrived in the middle of a real winter.

"The weather makes it hard on us, but Mother Nature has funny ways of teaching you things and maybe this is one of those things," said Eckenrode. "They all act like they're ready for what they're dealing with. They're tough, hardy foals. I watch them on camera at night and I see them during the day. They're not laying around trying to get warm. They're up on their feet and have been some of the most precocious, forward babies we've had."

BY MAGGIE KIMMITT

Bub the Scrub
(aka The Gentleman Pirate)

SHANNON BRINKMAN

For the first three years of his life, he was Bub the Scrub. Bred by South River Ranch, he was foaled April 8, 2003, in Ohio. Sire Covered Wagon, a son of Gone West, placed in a minor stakes but finished his career in 15 consecutive claiming starts. Dam Jasinjodie, by Repriced, lost all four starts. Bub the Scrub ran three times himself – finishing 10th, eighth and seventh – and earned $165.

That all changed one afternoon in July 2006 when 18-year-old Kelsey Briggs drove from Charlotte, N.C., to River Downs racetrack in Cincinnati, Ohio (now Belterra Park) to check out the gangly gelding who had caught her eye online. Briggs was looking for an off-track Thoroughbred for a client, but the dark bay with the too-big head captured her imagination on the CANTER USA website.

"I saw this big, lanky 3-year-old with a giant head," Briggs said. "The bigger horses take longer to look right so he was still a little disproportionate, but overall I liked the way he was put together. I called about him and a couple other horses, but kind of in my mind I was going to have an eye on Bub for myself when I went up there."

In the quiet of late afternoon, Briggs pulled up to the barn and immediately recognized the horse.

"He was sticking his head out and turning it sideways, which he does to this day when he wants attention," Briggs said. "He had this little scratch over his eye, and I just called him Pirate. He was never Bub the Scrub again. He was The Gentleman Pirate the minute I met him."

Rechristened and restarted as an event horse, the horse was a treasure chest of natural talent.

"Obviously we learned all this together," Briggs said. "I was a kid and he was just 3 when I got him. But it always kind of felt like on cross country there was this wisdom to him, even as a young horse. It was almost like being out there on a schoolmaster."

In 2009, they won the Ocala Three-Day Event at the preliminary level. Still utilizing the long format, the competition included the steeplechase and roads and tracks phases. The Gentleman Pirate won handily, further proving to Briggs that he could become a serious horse. She took a month off from her clients and teaching business that summer to spend a month training with Olympic champion Bruce Davidson in Unionville, Pa.

Davidson offered encouragement but also counsel. He told Briggs she could either have her students and teaching or become a serious eventing competitor – but not both. And in his opinion, she and her horse had abundant potential.

"I didn't have owners, rich parents or big sponsors," Briggs said. "I have no education outside of the horses – I didn't go to high school. So I have to be the local riding instructor in order to get there."

Briggs calls her methods – and path to success – unconventional. Raised and based in North Carolina, she leases a farm in Indian Land, S.C., on the North and South Carolina border. Her home is 15 minutes away in Waxhaw, N.C.

"It's a lovely little 20-acre place and it's the first time I've ever had an arena; it's just a dressage arena," she said. "Pirate and I got up to the three-star level just training and jumping in a field. I just think that's better, it's cross country. I spend the winters galloping the hills and foxhunting, not going down to Florida. I do it old school. I'm not changing the way I train because at the end of the day this is what I believe is right for the horses."

On Jan. 5, 2013, Briggs arrived at the barn and was met by a student informing her that "Pirate doesn't want to come in." One glance told Briggs something was desperately wrong. He couldn't move.

"He tried to walk and just staggered," she said. "It was a freak accident; a sudden traumatic event, and we don't know how. But he had broken his neck. It was all we could do to get him into the barn. We got him X-rayed and it was a very evident break with a slight displacement. It was pushing on his spinal cord but didn't sever it – which was the hand of God right there."

"I was a kid and he was just 3 when I got him. But it always kind of felt like on cross country there was this wisdom to him, even as a young horse. It was almost like being out there on a schoolmaster."

– Kelsey Briggs

"My vet, Travis Blackwelder of Statesville Equine, was nearly in tears. It was very emotional," Briggs said. "He sent the images to N.C. State, and they texted back asking if he'd been put down already. Travis said Pirate was standing in his vet clinic, and they said, 'HOW is he standing?' "

Devastated, Briggs saw her hopes disintegrating, but none of that mattered.

"He was already an upper-level horse and it was very evident he was going to make my dreams come true," she said. "But at that point I just didn't want to lose my best friend. He was the love of my life; I say that to this day. He's my soulmate."

Riding was off the table; competing again was not even a consideration. Until one day Briggs said she instinctively knew they WOULD make a comeback. Looking him in the eye, she could see he wasn't finished.

Briggs' friend, international event rider Francis Whittington, offered offer support and assistance in the recovery. With everyone else certain the horse was finished, Briggs credits Whittington with "giving me permission to believe when everyone else thought I was delusional."

The Gentleman Pirate healed completely with stall rest and eventual turnout. Briggs knew they were in the clear when she noticed – and captured on video – him trotting figure eights on his own in the field. On July 2, 2013, Blackwelder took X-rays which showed full recovery and no sign of displacement. He legged Briggs up on the gelding for a bareback stroll down the farm road. The following February, just over a year after the injury, they were back in action. In April 2014 they returned to The Fork, a local recognized event.

"It was the first really big event we were in, and the number of people who were out there cheering that horse on gives me chills to this day," Briggs said. "There were people holding up signs. There was a fan club that came out to greet him after cross country. I have a picture of this big group of my family and friends at the finish line. We were all crying. That was the moment I felt not only are we back, we're back better than ever."

The experience changed Briggs' perspective; the time had come to focus completely on her horse. In 2015, she relocated to the Middleburg, Va.-area for two years.

"We had been pretty proficient through the three-star level here. We were running intermediate pretty successfully. But moving up to Virginia put us in the bigger league. We ran at Bromont [Canada] which meant we had competed internationally. All those big events that I had watched from afar – Fair Hill, Plantation Field – suddenly I was in the thick of that."

They moved up to the advanced level and ultimately took on four-star events, Briggs' lilfelong goal. Bub the Scrub, her $600 racetrack retrain, indeed became, as Bruce Davidson predicted, a serious horse.

Briggs and The Gentleman Pirate remained familiar and popular competitors until last spring.

"I last ran him in a preliminary in May 2025," Briggs said. "We galloped through the finish line not even blowing, ears up, looking for the next one. And I just collapsed on his neck in tears because that was how I wanted it to feel."

Retired from competition, the now 23-year-old gelding has complete run of the farm. He lives outside with his friends – Briggs' standard operating procedure – and still gets to accompany a younger prospect in cross-country schools. Occasionally he'll get on the van and take a ride to nearby Cane Creek Park for a favorite activity – swimming. And according to Briggs, he still feels grand.

"He's jumped around some of the biggest tracks in this country, and it was just effortless," she said. "No matter how many talented horses I might sit on, I just don't know if I will ever have that feeling again. I'm such a lucky girl to have this horse shape my career and have every dream I have ever had come true. He is the great love story of my life. I want people to always remember Pirate. I think he's so special in so many ways; I just want him to be remembered forever." ■

BY JOE CLANCY

Staying positive for Maryland's racing future

How's Maryland racing? My 91-year-old father, a retired trainer who was a regular in Maryland and beyond way back when, asks me that question every time I talk to him.

I stay optimistic, but by now even he probably realizes it's a crapshoot.

You need a scorebook to keep track of the lineup changes around the various plans and proposals devoted to the future of Thoroughbred racing in the state.

Rebuild Laurel Park and race there. No, just train at Laurel and race at a rebuilt Pimlico Race Course in Baltimore.

Create a quasi-government authority to make bold choices and a non-profit operating model to run the actual racing.

Hold on, train and race at Pimlico.

The Preakness is never leaving Baltimore . . . well, except for 2026.

Create an off-track training center, after studying the viability of several potential sites around the state.

Choose former breeding farm Shamrock Farm for the training center. Horses can be based there and at Pimlico.

But all the racing will be at Pimlico.

Laurel will be sold and developed, eventually.

Shut down the quasi-government authority.

Pump the brakes a little on the Shamrock idea.

Bulldoze Pimlico.

After much study, scuttle the Shamrock plan entirely.

Agree to buy Laurel and rehab it into a suitable training center.

Pimlico will be for racing only, no training.

I'm not sure I've covered it all, but you get the picture. It's been a lot. The future of Maryland racing, funded by more than $400 million in state bonds backed by racing's share of the proceeds from slot machines, has taken more turns than Olympic lugers in Cortina.

But, as I tell my father, I'm optimistic. Even if it can be a challenge to stay that way.

Maryland's Thoroughbred history counts for something. The state hosts a Triple Crown race. The Maryland Jockey Club, in whatever form, dates to 1743. Stallions, mares, foals and farms needed to care for them and raise young horses make an agricultural impact. There's a relatively healthy steeplechase program in the state. Fasig-Tipton conducts regional auctions in Maryland. Fair Hill Training Center stands on a national reputation launched in 1983.

The non-profit business model for racing, created as a way forward amidst near disaster, adds to the formula. The Stronach Group was never going to figure out a way to make Maryland racing profitable given the business structure and the various pressure points of aging facilities, competition from other forms of gambling and a crowded regional racing landscape. If the operating model didn't change, optimism would be difficult to find.

In short, there's a chance this works. It's been messy and will surely get at least a little messier.

Maryland must weather a 2026 Preakness at Laurel with limited attendance and diminished attention. Everyone with a job to do will work at it – after all, people who cared made Pimlico work all these years – but it's going to be different. Delaware Park might have been a better temporary host. Sorry.

The Laurel-as-training-center plan needs to get to steps two, three, four and so on. In some ways, it's a step ahead of Shamrock, but the old racetrack is also not a blank slate and will test anyone trying to sort out all the details. One potential benefit? Laurel could still host some limited racing similar to what New Jersey does with the Meadowlands. Another potential benefit? Shamrock could become a Thoroughbred retirement facility or a racehorse therapy center.

Pimlico needs to become a construction, and not just demolition, site. Soon. Momentum matters. Without the need for long-term stabling and training, a new plant might come to life sooner and turn out better for racegoers. I know the dirt surface, and horses who race on it, will appreciate the decreased usage. I was never a "Preserve Pimlico" person, as much as I appreciated the mix of grit, charm and hard-working utility. History exists there, but precious little if anything was actually historic anymore. It was mostly just old. The historic piece to appreciate will be that racing still happens at a location first used for that purpose in 1870.

Finally, the horse piece of this puzzle needs to stay in the ring.

Breeders, owners, trainers, stallion owners must do their parts and play their roles. The work of the Maryland Thoroughbred Partnership continues to garner media attention from Baltimore-centric publications and broadcast outlets. Next stop, Annapolis. The momentum behind the Maryland Million feels like a major development with new racing and bonus opportunities coming to life this month. Likewise, the cooperation with racetracks and racing schedules in Virginia and Delaware feels like creative progress.

Finally, the horses have no idea the state's Thoroughbred world is in the midst of a makeover. We owe it to them to see it through.

I look forward to telling Joe Sr. all about it.

RIP, Champs

Two horses who appeared in the pages of MAT multiple times in the last two decades, 2005 Preakness Stakes-G1 winner Afleet Alex and multiple steeplechase stakes winner Sermon of Love, died in February. The retirees were 24 and 23, respectively.

Bred in Florida and a $75,000 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic May 2-year-old sales horse, Afleet Alex won eight of 12 starts and earned $2,765,800 for Cash Is King and trainer Tim Ritchey. The colt won an Eclipse Award as champion 3-year-old male of 2005 thanks to wins in the Belmont Stakes-G1 and Preakness, where he nearly fell at the top of the stretch after colliding with Scrappy T.

The son of Northern Afleet had resided at Kentucky's Gainesway Farm since retiring to stud in 2006, and he lived in the stud barn as a pensioner since 2022, greeting visitors from the same stall and paddock where he spent his active career. Afleet Alex sired more than 50 stakes winners with progeny earnings surpassing $54.8 million. He sired Travers Stakes-G1 winner Afleet Express and Breeders' Cup winners Texas Red (Juvenile) and Afleet Again (Marathon), as well as Canadian champion Skywire.

Bred in Kentucky by Pennsylvanian F. Eugene "Fitz" Dixon Jr., Sermon of Love didn't match Afleet Alex on the racetrack or the breeding shed, but did win a hurdle stakes as a 3-year-old for trainer Jack Fisher in 2006 before selling as a 4-year-old. The son of Pulpit and Dixon's graded stakes-winning Ascot Knight mare Plenty of Sugar lost his first 15 starts for trainer Jonathan Sheppard, but broke through with an allowance hurdle score at Penn National and a maiden flat win at Saratoga in 2009. The following year, the gelding won two hurdle stakes at Saratoga, topped by the New York Turf Writers Cup-G1.

Retired and given to former Sheppard staffer Mel Williams, who now works for Mike Trombetta, Sermon of Love became a foxhunter, team chaser, point-to-pointer, hunter-trial mount, Real Rider Cup participant and even a quiet ride for Williams' young son Denny on a long list of roles.

Training Grounds

FAIR HILL, DELAWARE PERSEVERE THROUGH WINTER WEATHER

by Joe Clancy ■ Photographs by Hoofprints, Inc.

On a sunny and cold Tuesday morning Jan. 27, a yellow John Deere road grader, looking like a cross between a praying mantis and a Star Wars AT-AT transporter, idles in the cold. In the driver's seat, Juan Cordova applies some throttle and the 35,000-pound machine – officially a 672D model – crawls forward. On either side, assistants walk to gauge the depth of the angled blade and its wake. Snow, a foot deep and capped with a frozen crust, gives way and slides to the right.

Three laps and three hours later, the 7-furlong Tapeta track at Maryland's Fair Hill Training Center is mostly clear of snow. Two snowblowers – a big one attached to a John Deere tractor and a smaller model hooked to a Bobcat utility vehicle – finish the job by blasting a final snow mound over the outside rail.

Then the real work begins.

Using a germinator, a cultivator and a power harrow, Cordova and company de-compact the track and blend the final inch or two of snow into the synthetic surface over the next four hours and make periodic passes through the night to prevent freezing.

By morning, less than 24 hours after that grader took its first bite of snow and two days after the storm ended, the track is suitable for racehorses. Officially Fair Hill's track/maintenance manager, Cordova and a crew of eight to 10 others made it happen. At least someone was on duty for the better part of four days.

"This was a six-pizza storm," said Robert Croteau, Fair Hill's general manager, of helping keep the team fed overnight. "Our mantra is, number one, is it going to be safe? That means it has to be consistent, and we have to understand what the limitations are about attacking it and what we can afford to do. To have horses training on it was very elevating for the team. It felt really good."

Home to about 400 horses in the winter, Fair Hill also has a 1-mile dirt track but opts to leave it be during extreme weather. Frozen, packed down tightly and – eventually – cleared of snow, the dirt gets used for jogging and as an access route to the Tapeta. Developed by former trainer Michael Dickinson, the Tapeta track is Fair Hill's winter workhorse. It drains better than dirt, which helps in low temperatures and snowstorms, and brings predictability to an unpredictable situation.

"We can expend resources and time on the Tapeta and have a really decent surface the next day," said Croteau. "You could exert the same amount of resources on the dirt track and have a terrible surface the next day."

Six days after the Tapeta track-reopened, Fair Hill trainer Tim Woolley won a race at Laurel Park with Atlas Strong. The

6-year-old mare, whose last timed breeze came Jan. 23, won a $12,500 starter optional claimer going a mile on the dirt Feb. 4. It was her first start since November.

"You have to make adjustments," Woolley said of training in the winter. "Breeze when you think you can, not necessarily on your schedule. You've got a horse where you think you've got it and if you get weather it makes training even more of a challenge. If they run poorly, you don't know whether it's because they missed training or something else."

Woolley credited Laurel's care of its dirt surface through the wild weather, and loved the way his mare took to it.

"We are really fortunate to have the Tapeta all-weather track," the trainer said. "Our track has been really good to train over since they got the snow off it, and Laurel's track was in really good shape when we got there too. They have a few more resources to throw at it than we do, but none of it is easy."

Bred in Maryland by Harry Kassap, Atlas Strong got claimed in that Laurel race. Her new trainer? The Fair Hill-based Phil Schoenthal.

Fair Hill replaced its Tapeta over the summer and the track opened Sept. 11. Despite the haymakers thrown by snow in December, a major storm in January, single-digit temperatures and sub-zero wind chills, the track was closed for just 10 days through Feb. 11. During the same time frame, the dirt track was closed for more than 40 days – and counting – for being too wet, too cold or some combination of both.

During the January storm, Cordova and company stepped outside their comfort zones to make it happen, working through the night. Winter track maintenance puts machines and humans to the test.

On the mechanical side, tractors, harrows, graders and blowers require fuel, parts and maintenance. Metal harrow teeth, 300 per harrow, can wear out in less than three days on hard winter surfaces. They cost $8.50 apiece and must be replaced individually. Fuel can gel up and clog in extreme cold. Letting the machines run prevents that, but uses more fuel. A wet air filter will shut down a tractor, no matter where it is (on the track is the worst-case scenario). The specialized grooming harrow for the Tapeta must be sprayed with diesel fuel periodically to prevent material from sticking to it.

Delaware Park's track workers clear snow from the 1-mile dirt oval with a variety of equipment.

On the human side, all those machines need operators – at all hours. Drivers on Maryland's Route 273 are probably used to it by now, but even the most seasoned will get a little unnerved by featureless headlights doing circles across the field.

The guys in the tractors find it just as hypnotizing.

"It's the quietest part of the day," said Cordova and the overnight shift. "You look at the same thing and you go around and around. Once in a while, you'll be like, 'Where am I?' Everything starts to look the same. You know you are on the track, but you might not know what part of the track."

Beyond the tracks, Fair Hill's maintenance crew is responsible for plowing the main road through the training center, clearing barn parking lots, opening horsepaths and smaller access roads and assisting barn owners/tenants with more day-to-day issues such as frozen pipes, electrical problems and generators that won't start.

Much of the job requires reacting to the storm and what develops, but Croteau tried to be proactive before the weather hit. Trainers received a message on the WhatsApp broadcast explaining the plan and steps they could take. The maintenance team used an overhead map to organize plowing plans, taking into account trash dumpsters, manure pits, parked vehicles and access for emergency vehicles to each barn.

"There's a lot of work to do and it never ends. Mother Nature keeps pouring it on."

– Delaware Park's Jed Doro, about the power of winter in 2026

"Make sure the animals get taken care of," Croteau said of the priority. "We want to make sure people have access to the barns, whether it's a skeleton crew coming in or people staying over, then we start talking about getting to the tracks."

Once the work starts on the training track, a new challenge emerges as crews strive to find consistency in an inconsistent time. Temperatures fluctuate from bitter overnight cold to somewhat balmy afternoons, creating a freeze/thaw scenario that plays havoc with track surfaces. Anywhere water collects – roads, tracks, parking lots, horsepaths, track access gaps – can turn treacherous without attention. Wind can create snow drifts or even blow away track material.

"Somedays you can stand at one part of the track and say, 'This is fine,' but if you walked around to the other side, you could play a hockey game," said Croteau. "The Tapeta is easier to keep consistent, but it needs more work in the winter than it does the rest of the year, especially when the dirt is closed."

Summer is the New Winter

Sundays in the picnic grove. Cool shade in the paddock. Ice cream from the grandstand counter. Harry M. Stevens cups full of icy soda. Air conditioning seemingly pumped from the Alps.

Summer racing at Delaware Park comes with its share of cool, but it all seemed as far away as the Fourth of July in early February. Open for winter training for the second consecutive year, Delaware was home to 300 horses and 50 trainers. All, along with track staffers, dealt with cold, snow, wind and ice to keep the dirt surface open for training.

In short, it was a battle.

"We're a summer racetrack staying open for the winter," said Jed Doro, director of racing. "There's a lot of work to do and it never ends. Mother Nature keeps pouring it on. It seems like every day there's something do deal with. It's pretty crazy weather to try to maintain a racetrack through."

For the late-January storm, Doro and track superintendent Derek Pettinger called in retired track super turned consultant Ken Brown for advice. The crew followed a predictable plan. First they prepped the track as much as possible – grading dirt toward the outside rail, packing it down, getting the track as dry as possible, adding salt. Tractors ran until the snow started, then let it pile up. Like a blanket, the snow provided insulation for the dirt through even colder temperatures before it was time for snow removal. With a grader and a blower, Brown and Pettinger sent snow over the rails for three days. When the temperature climbed to 38 degrees Feb. 4, crews pulled out the harrows and started working the track through the afternoon and evening. Horses trained the next morning.

"We lost nine days of training and that stinks, do not get me wrong," said Doro, who credited his staff and the trainers on site with making the best of a difficult situation. Delaware makes a covered Equi-Ciser free walker available to trainers, who also used covered shedrows to keep horses moving.

Despite not being able to train on a track for more than a week, Sin Sin won a $15,000 maiden claimer at Laurel Park Feb. 4 for trainer Tony Pecoraro. The prep wasn't ideal, for anyone, but the 3-year-old Maryland-bred Bolfeld gelding delivered for owners/breeders Robert and Mary Atkinson.

"It's not an easy job when the weather's good, so not having a track for nine days was challenging," said Pecoraro. "He'd been on the Equi-Ciser, which helped, and that horse was doing really well. I thought the last time [a fourth Jan. 9] he would win; it seems like I'm always one start off."

In addition to Pecoraro, trainers at the track through the winter included Jamie Ness, Kelly Dieter, Tim Ritchey, Ben Perkins Jr., Ned Allard and Mike Gorham. The Allard-trained Quint's Brew finished third in the General George Stakes at Laurel Feb. 14, a month after winning the Jennings Stakes at the Maryland track.

Purchased by Clairvest Group from the Rickman family in late 2021, and managed by Rubico Gaming, Delaware doesn't race until May, but an open stable area in the winter helps make for full barns in the spring and summer.

"Horsemen asked for it," Doro said of winter stabling/training. "It was one of those things with new ownership we took a flier. It helps the local people not have to pick up and move as much. It worked last winter. The temperature was pretty cold, but we didn't get as much snow." ■

A Shore Thing

BOOK'EM DANNO SOARS TO SPRINT ECLIPSE FOR ATLANTIC SIX

By Paul Halloran

Who would have thought that a horse named for fake money would lead to a horse so valuable that his owners were willing to eschew a $2 million offer to sell him?

Jay Briscione and a small group of friends had been out of Thoroughbred racing for a quarter-century. They experienced some moderate success in the 1980s and '90s, but not enough to overcome life getting in the way.

"We had kids and discretionary income disappeared," Briscione said.

Once those children were grown up, through college and on their own, the financial resources returned, prompting one of Briscione's friends to force the issue.

"Are we going to get back in this or not?" said Jim Scappi, one of the Atlantic Six Racing partners, New Jersey-bred guys who bought a New Jersey-bred horse as part of their re-entry plan.

Counterfeitcurency won only twice in 30 starts – including a 2020 maiden breaker under Ferrin Peterson in his second start – but throw in six seconds and two thirds and the gelding was only $808 shy of $200,000 in career earnings. Briscione's group had plans for some of that money.

Having sent a New York-bred yearling to get Virginia-certified at Chris Gracie's farm in Middleburg in 2022, Briscione asked if there were any Jersey-breds for sale. Gracie recommended a Bucchero colt bred by Greg Kilka and Christine Connelly's Bright View Farm. He was the second foal out of Adorabella and the first, a filly named Girl Trouble, was showing promise with trainer Butch Reid at Parx Racing.

Briscione has been reluctant to disclose the exact price they paid, but confirmed an educated guess of $35,000 was "not too far off." It doesn't really matter when less than four years later the horse later named Book'em Danno has won four graded stakes – all at Saratoga – earned $1,855,425 and on Jan. 22 was named the Eclipse Award champion male sprinter of 2025.

Calling it a dream come true is too trite for the magnitude of this odyssey, which carried a six pack of old friends from the Jersey Shore to the winner's circle at America's most venerable racetrack and the Ponce de Leon Ballroom at The Breakers in Palm Beach, where they collected their Eclipse, worth as much to them as the Fountain of Youth the Spanish explorer was seeking when he discovered Florida.

"It's just been incredible," said Mark Rubenstein, one of the Atlantic Six partners, who gifted a half-share to his son Jeff, expanding the group to seven. The other partners are Jim Rubenstein, Jeff Resnikoff, Frank Camassa and Scappi. Lifelong friends who make every race include Paul Morgano, Steve O'Horo and Steve Capozzi, Briscione's cousin.

"These are things that happen to the big stables," Mark Rubenstein said. "Jay and I talk a lot and we say, 'How did it happen to us?' We just got lucky. We got so lucky."

How is far less relevant than that it happened. And it's not over yet, with a 5-year-old campaign planned to ideally culminate in the one race they have yet to attempt – to the chagrin of some observers.

Briscione and Rubenstein have similar racing origin stories. A lifelong resident of Oceanport, Briscione started walking hots at Monmouth Park in the summer as a teenager to pick up a few bucks and still be able to get to the beach before noon. He went on to become a groom and assistant trainer for Tony Arcodia and Miami Lakes Ranch in the mid-1970s, after graduating from Fairfield University. Briscione was working on the backstretch when Billy Turner was preparing Seattle Slew for his 1977 Triple Crown run.

Rubenstein grew up in Clifton, five minutes from Monmouth Park, but didn't start going to the races until he was home on break from Alfred University in New York. He started grooming horses for trainer Tony Bardaro at Hialeah around 1975 and worked up to barn foreman. It took only a few years for burnout to set in.

"It was a grind," he said. "As barn foreman it's seven days a week and you're banging on tackroom doors on a Sunday morning for people to get up and come to work, and they don't come to work, and you're in the stalls doing other people's work. So, it eventually just got to me. And I never had any interest in becoming a trainer because I don't have the emotional makeup to deal with the headaches that trainers have to deal with on an hourly basis."

Rubenstein did some sales work for bloodstock agent Clay Camp and in the late 1980s put together an ownership syndicate of family and friends, primarily playing the claiming game. After about five years, he was out of the business until Briscione called when he was forming the Atlantic Six group.

The first horse they bought was Counterfeitcurency, from breeder Greg Garofalo and Topsmeade. When Briscione asked Gracie about a New Jersey-bred, he recommended a colt from the second crop of Florida-based Bucchero, to whom Kilka and Connelly had sent Adorabella, a Ghostzapper mare they bought in foal to Fast Anna for $14,000 at the Keeneland January Sale in 2020.

"It was the first year that Bucchero had 2-year-olds, and they were averaging about $40,000 [at the sales]," Gracie said. "When Jay contacted me about buying a horse, I said to Greg and Christine that it was probably worthwhile to see if they wanted to buy the horse off the farm rather than incurring all the expenses going to a horse sale. Greg was trying to support the stallion and bought some mares to send to Bucchero. When Jay called, I told him I had some New Jersey-breds, and he came out to the farm, and we looked at a few together, and that was the one that I thought was the best one."

The horse, one of 117 New Jersey-breds in the 2021 crop, was broken by Randy Rentz in South Carolina and sent to trainer Derek Ryan at Monmouth, with moderate expectations.

"He just looked like an ordinary horse, a pretty mover," Ryan said. "Two of them came in together and we thought the other one [the New York-bred by Cloud Computing named Two's a Crowd] might be even better."

That opinion changed in the 64.77 seconds it took the gelding to obliterate a field of state-bred maidens by 9½ lengths at Monmouth Aug. 12, 2023. When a Ryan-trained horse runs like that on debut, watch out.

"I don't crank them up first time out, especially with 2-year-olds," said Ryan, who has won at a 7-percent clip with first-time starters the last five years. "Unless you have a stakes horse, there's nowhere to run them."

He immediately threw Book'em Danno into the stakes pool and it paid off with wins in the Smoke Glacken at Monmouth, the Futurity at Aqueduct and a second in the Nashua, earning five points on the road to the 2024 Kentucky Derby-G1. Ryan, however, had no intention of running at Churchill Downs on the first Saturday in May, instead channeling his inner Robert Frost and opting for the road less traveled.

"At the time, he really wasn't cut out to be a two-turn horse," Ryan said. "I had my eye on that race in Saudi Arabia from as soon as we knew he could really run, from October."

The race was the $1.5-million Saudi Derby-G3 in February, which Book'em Danno prepped for with a 12½-length win in January's Pasco Stakes at Tampa Bay Downs. Ryan enlisted the services of Joe Hennessey to travel to the Middle East with the horse. Hennessey, a former exercise rider for Leo O'Brien who galloped Fourstardave, spent some time training in Saudi Arabia and Ryan wanted that experience on the team.

In the Saudi Derby, Book'em Danno – named for the Steve McGarrett line in Hawaii Five-0 – took the lead in the stretch and looked like a winner until being nailed on the wire by Forever Young (Jpn). Bentornato was third in what turned out to be the definition of a key race. It was a crushing defeat, but Briscione quickly put it into perspective.

"I thought that, obviously, Forever Young was deserving favorite and the horse to beat," he said. "I thought Bentornato would at some point make the lead, which he did. We went by him and opened up. Yeah, I thought we were home. But you know what? If someone had told me, 'You're going to run in a million-and-a-half dollar race in Saudi Arabia, would you take second or third right now?' my answer would have been yes."

Team Book'em Danno left Saudi Arabia with a $300,000 share of the purse and the confidence they had a horse who could run with anyone in the world up to a mile. Yet they knew he would need a freshening after more than 13,000 miles of travel and a grueling race.

The Woody Stephens-G1 on the Belmont Stakes card became a logical option for a comeback and that was fine with the Atlantic Six partners, who had come to Saratoga many times but had never run a horse there.

"That was so exciting," "Briscione said. "We've been going to Saratoga for 20 years. We stay at the Circular Manor bed and breakfast. Three couples go, and one other couple that we've met along the way comes from D.C."

It may have been more of a business trip on June 8, 2024, but their emerging horse made sure there was plenty of pleasure mixed in, winning the Woody Stephens by a half-length over 10 others.

"That was always a dream to run a horse at Saratoga, not knowing your first horse is going to win a Grade 1 race," said Briscione.

They were back on Union Avenue in late August for the H. Allen Jerkens Memorial Stakes-G1, after a closer-than-expected nose win in the Jersey Shore Stakes at Monmouth. In the Jerkens, Book'em Danno had a rough trip under Javier Castellano, filling in for Irad Ortiz Jr., who opted to ride Speak Easy for Todd Pletcher (they finished ninth). Castellano was somewhat a victim of circumstance, getting pinned on the rail on a day when that was not the place to be.

The day before the Jerkens, Briscione received an offer to sell the horse for north of $2 million, prompting some healthy discussion among the ownership group.

"There were some people that wanted to sell, and there were some people that were dead against selling, saying, 'Hey, have we ever had this much fun in our lifetimes?' " Briscione said. "At the same time, it's tempered by the fact that you could give me $2 million and I could blow it and not get another Book'em Danno."

The final decision was that the magical ride they were on was indeed priceless.

In contrast, Connelly sold Adorabella for $550,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky fall mixed sale in 2023. "For us, it was the right decision at the right time," she said, "although it damn near killed me." The mare is part of owner Glenn Bennett's LC Racing breeding program in Pennsylvania.

The third in the Jerkens was the first of three defeats to end the 3-year-old campaign – he suffered a neck defeat in Keeneland's Grade 3 Perryville and was fifth in the Cigar Mile-G2 at Aqueduct, seemingly validating the decision to have skipped the Breeders' Cup – the first time.

The 2025 campaign started with a gimme – at least on paper – a $100,000 restricted handicap at Colonial Downs for Virginia-bred, -sired or -certified horses in March. After Ryan dropped Book'em Danno's name into the entry box, other trainers retreated like Gen. Robert E. Lee in 1865, the field of 11 scratching down to three.

Riding Book'em Danno for the first time, Paco Lopez guided him to a workmanlike 2½-length win over millionaire Repo Rocks, which set him up for the Churchill Downs Stakes-G1 on the Kentucky Derby undercard.

"Paco had been bothering me for a long time to ride him, and he took off [riding] on a Sunday to come up to Tampa to work him," Ryan said. "So, I said, 'Well, he really wants to ride him. We better go with it.' "

The Colonial Downs race marked the debut of Mark Rubenstein as fill-in groom and hotwalker, a half-century after working in those roles full-time.

"His regular groom [Erick Rivero] stays at Monmouth to hold down the fort while Derek is away," said Rubenstein, who moved to Panama two years ago and flies in for Book'em Danno's races. "I was on the backside in the morning, and Derek asked me out of the blue, 'You want to run him?' Just for him to have enough confidence in me to take this horse over to the races was very flattering."

Considering what followed, it might seem crazy to assert the fourth in the Churchill Downs was as good as any effort he has ever put forth, but when you consider the field – Mindframe, Banishing, Nysos, Mullikin, Hoist the Gold – and that Book'em Danno lost by a neck after another less-than-ideal trip on a sloppy track, the argument would at least be cogent.

Ryan planned for two races at Saratoga, the True North-G3 on Belmont Stakes Day and the Forego-G1 on Travers Day. But when he blew by Mullikin – the 2024 Forego winner – in the True North, there was no good reason to pass on the Alfred G. Vanderbilt-G2 six weeks later.

That turned out to be a wise decision, when Book'em Danno responded with another big effort, leaving Mullikin and Nakatomi in his wake.

"The middle one came up, and I said, 'You know what? We'll take our shot as good as he was doing.' And it was a similar field to what he beat the time before," Ryan said. "And, it's Saratoga. I mean, to me, there's only three places to win. Keeneland and Saratoga and Churchill. And all the owners wanted to go to Saratoga."

Five weeks later in the Forego, bettors sent Book'em Danno off as a 4-5 favorite. As he walked from the paddock to watch from his lucky spot in The Porch dining area, Briscione wasn't sure that was justified.

"I think we're overbet," he said.

A few minutes later, the horse had completed a reverse Lawrence Welk of graded stakes at Saratoga – a 3 and a 2 and a 1 for those not of a certain age.

"You know what? When you buy or get involved in young horses, it's like a little kid playing sports," Briscione said after the race. "You think you're going to hit a home run. You think you're going to score a touchdown. When you buy young horses, you think, 'Could this possibly be the one?' And we play at such a small level that chances are it's not going to be the one. With this one, our dreams came true."

Rubenstein got to soak it all in, walking Book'em Danno into the winner's circle and up the stretch to the test barn. It may have looked like he was walking, but he was actually flying.

"There were people four or five deep along the grandstand, just shouting his name, taking pictures. That was one of the great moments in my life, running that horse in Saratoga," he said. "I don't have too many big moments in my life, but that was a big, big moment for a former groom and a former hotwalker. At age 74, to be doing that. I still think about it almost every day how exciting that was. To be bringing him into the winner's circle and listening to [track announcer] Frank Mirahmadi talk about what a summer and welcome this horse to the winner's circle."

Even though Ryan had been saying for months he had no plans to go to the Breeders' Cup, after winning three straight graded stakes on the hallowed grounds of Saratoga, there was renewed pressure to bring the best sprinter in the country to Del Mar. Ryan and the owners did not succumb.

"Not at Del Mar," the trainer said. "It's a speed-favoring track with a really short stretch and I didn't think it would suit him."

The way the Breeders' Cup Sprint-G1 materialized, with Bentornato leading every step on a track that significantly favored frontrunners, in a 6-furlong race, Book'em Danno likely would have had his hooves full.

Not that it was a slam-dunk decision, at least for the owners, who had passed on pursuing a Derby dream the year before.

"I think the Breeders' Cup was harder than the Derby because the Derby was never really a consideration," Briscione said. "I know we would have been a factor in the Breeders Cup. I've seen enough people get Derby fever and screw up their horses. I think the Breeders' Cup was harder to miss because if we're not the favorite, we're going to be the second favorite. He had regressed a little in the Forego and it was a hard campaign."

In the closest vote of all the Eclipse Award categories, voters determined Book'em Danno had indeed done enough. He outpointed Bentornato for champion male sprinter by 33 votes. The Atlantic Six colorbearer is the second New Jersey-bred Eclipse winner, after Open Mind in 1988 and 1989, and joined the state's historic champions Regret, Cavalcade and Blue Sparkler on an exclusive list

"He won the Eclipse Award, so he did something right, and we did something right," Briscione said. "Can we come back and win the Breeders' Cup this year? Hopefully."

Ryan has mapped out a slightly less ambitious campaign that at this point calls for no more than four races and ends with the Breeders' Cup Sprint at Keeneland. After a freshening at Hennessey's farm in Ocala, Book'em Danno joined Ryan's 15-horse string at Tampa in mid-January. The highest-earning New Jersey-bred in history returned to the work tab Feb. 8, covering 3 furlongs in a crisp :36.40.

"He got even bigger," Ryan said. "He's 16-3 [hands]. He's built like a tank. They say the 5-year-old year is their best, so hopefully they're right."

That would be great, but for the Atlantic Six guys anything they get now is a third layer of icing on the cake.

"You need to get lucky in this game," Mark Rubenstein said. "This game can knock you around pretty hard. You have to be prepared to take punch after punch. For something like this to happen, for a small stable to actually come up with a big horse is just . . . We know how lucky we were. We know how lucky we are. And I hope the ride continues for a few more years." ■

IRISH-BRED VETERAN COOL JET FLIES TO ECLIPSE TITLE

By Joe Clancy

With a mare and her foal in distress, Deirdre McGrath called for help. An hour away, the veterinarian put it bluntly.

"I'll never make it in time. Have you a good carving knife, a good knife?"

McGrath headed to the kitchen, found the best knife in the drawer and went back to the barn. There, her husband Leo performed amateur surgery on Cool Trix (Ire) and a bay colt slid into the world. No one – the McGraths, their son Declan, the vet – expected a happy result.

"His head was right, but his legs weren't," said Deirdre about the delivery. "Leo had the honors of doing a very gruesome operation and no one knew what would happen next. The foal came out and was really shook. The mare was really shook. And the rest of us were just as nearly as shook by the time we were finished."

Upon arriving at the farm, near Dungarvan in the south of Ireland on the first Saturday of May 2016, the vet figured she was too late.

"No, they're still alive," the McGraths replied.

And then some. At two hours, the colt stood and nursed. In most cases, mare and foal would have died. After helping his parents and the vet deliver the foal and stabilize both horses as best he could, Declan McGrath returned home and could do little more than hope for the best. He expected the worst.

"I said to my daughter, who was only 5 at the time, that I wasn't sure," he said. "I couldn't tell her because I was fully convinced that we had neither foal nor mare. The next day, Mom said he was up and suckling. It was nothing short of a miracle."

Almost 10 years later, the foal who should have died with his mother in Ireland won the Eclipse Award as North America's champion steeplechase horse. Cool Jet (Ire) won three of six starts for Riverdee Stable and Maryland-based trainer Jack Fisher, earned $190,500 to lead the circuit and secured 119 first-place votes to outpoint Irish-based Zanahiyr (Ire) with 51 and Swore with 14.

The McGraths went along for the ride, as best they could. They'd sold Cool Jet, nicknamed "Lucky" around the farm, for $27,963 as a weanling at Goffs in December 2016 and watched him sell again to champion Irish trainer Willie Mullins as a 3-year-old. For Mullins, Cool Jet won a bumper (National Hunt flat race) in February 2021 to qualify for the Champion Bumper at the Cheltenham Festival.

"Leo and myself took him to the sale, and he was an absolute gentleman," Deirdre said. "We come from a quiet, country place and we went to that busy, big place and he was as good as gold. We said goodbye then and were delighted to see him go on. He sold as a 3-year-old and did OK at first."

Twelfth at Cheltenham, Cool Jet sold to owner Pat Boyle, joined British trainer Brian Ellison, and lost three hurdle starts before Boyle sent his horse across the Atlantic to Fisher. Second in a maiden hurdle for Boyle at Foxfield in October 2022, Cool Jet won at Far Hills two weeks later for Riverdee with Boyle staying in as a partner. In 2023, Cool Jet won two restricted stakes to find a niche in the powerful Fisher barn. The 2024 season included just two starts –a fall in April and a fourth in October.

The route to a championship in 2025 looked anything but clear. Cool Jet opened the year with a third in a handicap hurdle for apprentice jockeys at Virginia's Blue Ridge meet

Running for the second time in a week, 2025 steeplechase champion Cool Jet and jockey Bernie Dalton fly a fence on the way to victory in the Grade 1 Commonwealth Cup at Virginia's Great Meadow course in May.

April 12. At Foxfield two weeks later, he finished second in a 130 handicap hurdle. Wheeled back in a week for the $150,000 Commonwealth Cup-G1 at Great Meadow May 3, he teamed up with jockey Bernie Dalton and led from start to finish while scoring by 7¼ lengths. Rested over the summer, Cool Jet returned to win the Mariann de Tejeda Memorial-G3 at Foxfield Oct. 5 by 4¾ lengths and dominated six others in the Noel Laing-G3 by the same margin over the brush course at Montpelier Nov. 1. He went to the season-ending Colonial Cup-G1 Nov. 23, in search of a clincher, and fell at the first fence.

In the end, the blemish didn't matter as eight horses split the year's eight Grade 1 hurdle stakes, and no one put together a better campaign than Cool Jet. He avoided stablemate, and turnout pal, Snap Decision in the Temple Gwathmey-G2 in April, passed the Iroquois-G1 in May, skipped four racetrack Grade 1 stakes – where the anti-bleeding medication Lasix isn't permitted – and resisted a go at foreign raiders on soft turf in the $250,000 American Grand National-G1 in October. Cool Jet's three wins more than held up.

Dalton, a winner in his first three rides aboard the horse, admires Cool Jet's competitiveness. Allowing him to find his best stride is key.

"He's got a good, high, cruising speed," said the jockey. "If you take that away from him early, he ends up getting done for toe at the end of a race. You just let him go, jump off and go whatever gallop he's comfortable with. Then he's much better at the end of a race. In the Noel Laing, he traveled the whole way, ears pricked and never thought about spitting the bit. If you hold a horse like that up too much, you level the playing field for the horses that have the turn of foot.

"He's a very cool horse. He's one of those horses where you have no idea he's that good just looking at him or just riding him out. But they're the best kind really – honest, blue-collar types. That's the what the game is built on."

BARRIE REIGHTLER (2)

Champion Cool Jet enjoys his turnout time at Maryland's Locust Hill Farm in 2025, including a roll under the supervision of 2024 Eclipse Award winner Snap Decision.

The McGraths followed the success thanks to Declan's 15-year-old daughter Mairead, that 5-year-old kid her father tried to protect from bad news in 2016.

"She picked up that he was in the last three for this award and she couldn't go to school in the morning until we found out if he won or not," Declan said. "We're over the moon, delighted."

Known for producing cattle and sheep rather than champion Thoroughbreds, the McGraths bought Cool Trix, a daughter of English-bred Presenting, to go racing but she was injured while training as a 4-year-old. She joined a small broodmare band that typically doesn't go beyond three. Cool Jet is her only winner so far. The mare produced full-siblings to Cool Jet in 2020 and 2021 and a 2-year-old Valirann colt is on the farm. Not bred in 2024 or 2025, Cool Trix might have a date with a stallion this spring thanks to Cool Jet's success. Like most things today, even Irish National Hunt racing is about instant success.

"The market here is different," said Deirdre. "People want French-bred horses who come over and run right away. We've always sold the foals, but the last two years we didn't. We have 3-year-olds to sell this year and we'll probably point-to-point them if they don't sell."

Breeding a champion brought plenty of pride, and a little notoriety, but didn't change much around the farm in the foothills of the Comeragh Mountains.

"Breeding horses is my hobby," Deidre said. "We have cows and beef and a few sheep. We're farmers."

But the horses matter.

"Horses make sure we don't have a lot of money in our pockets," Declan said with a laugh. "But they give us an outlet. Horses connect everyone. It's still true even in this day and age. The basics, the animals, connect people an awful lot quicker than emails and computers."

Especially when you get Lucky.

Little Barn, Big Time

Give Jenna Elliott and the six-stall barn she runs at trainer Jack Fisher's Locust Hill Farm base some credit, and start taking notes for 2026, as Cool Jet won the 2025 steeplechase Eclipse Award a year after his neighbor Snap Decision did.

"I get lucky," said Elliott, whose barn also houses four standout foxhunters for Fisher's wife Sheila, joint master of the Green Spring Valley Hounds. "Because Snap was up there for so long, they'd pick somebody who would travel with him. When Cool Jet first moved up there, he hadn't won any big races yet. He was a horse to be with Snap. It was cool to see him keep up and go do what he did. You never know where horses are going to go."

Cool Jet and Snap Decision spent 2025 together in the barn, in the paddock out front and even in a race together at Foxfield in October (Cool Jet won), but they could pass for Felix Unger and Oscar Madison.

"With Snap you had to earn his respect and then he was your best friend," Elliott said. "Cool Jet is like, 'Nice to see you today.' He's always friendly, always with his head out the door, always happy. He was fun to have with Snap because they were opposite, they would play off each other a lot." ■

The Steeplechase Times

Riding Cool Jet's Wave

By Sean Clancy

I wrote it down. On a long list of 2025 resolutions and revelations. Somewhere between Read more books and Run more miles, it's there.

Win an Eclipse Award.

Then an asterisk. A writer's disclaimer.

For a horse.

There's a reason there's a horse and not a typewriter on the top of the sport's most cherished trophy.

Nobody read the line or the list. Some things never see the light of day, never escape the dreamer's dream.

And, sure, I write audacious goals every year. I've got more unpublished words than published. More scratched lines than ticked boxes. Pen and paper, for my eyes only, destined for a drawer, not a mantle. And, every year, they fall away into oblivion, the resolution graveyard. In racing, they can disappear in a flash, a misguided decision, an avoidable mistake, a trainer's phone call about a thick tendon, a short spot when a long one was needed, in the final waning, agonizing strides of an uphill stretch run.

Not this year.

Cool Jet (Ire) won an Eclipse Award for champion steeplechase horse, clinching the National Steeplechase Association's owner title, also on the resolution list, in the process. In the dark blue, light blue hoops, silks. And red cap. Don't forget the red cap. The ones my mother designed. The ones my father wore to owner/rider wins at long lost places like Goshen and Casanova. The ones my brother wore to junior race wins at Fairfax. The ones I wore to 10 wins on the indomitable race pony Red Raven and two hurdle wins on a little bay horse named Riverdee. Yes, those silks. From point-to-points to a Palm Beach podium.

Riverdee Stable's first champion. A stable named after an overachieving underdog somehow reached its zenith with another overachieving underdog.

If I wrote Win an Eclipse Award with Cool Jet in my notebook, nobody would have believed it, nobody would have fathomed it.

A gallant horse, a trier, a team player all the way, but an Eclipse Award? He won a maiden hurdle in 2022, two novice stakes in 2023 and followed with a write-off season in 2024 where he completed one of two starts. Now, here we were restarting for a 9-year-old campaign. Running out of time. Patching a patch job. This wasn't a resolution. This was a delusion.

Until it wasn't. In a year when Snap Decision got old, Abaan got hurt and the rest of the open stakes horses traded wins like kids with baseball cards on an elementary school playground, Cool Jet won a Grade 1 stakes and two Grade 3 stakes. A front-running, three-race skein that stood above all others. Sometimes, it's all about timing.

I've written about a thousand champions, from Skip Away to Slip Away, been ever so close to a chosen few and now we have one. I couldn't get a neck more out of Rowdy Irishman in the 1997 Colonial Cup, Janet Elliot took me off Flat Top, To Ridley got a tendon, and I was the sucker who sold Good Night Shirt long before the Maryland-bred embarked on a hurdle career that took him to two Eclipses and a spot in the Hall of Fame.

As we packed for the ceremony in January, those horses occupied my mind as I typed out a few lines of an acceptance speech, wondering if it would wind up tucked in a journal or actually read aloud on the sport's biggest night.

TOD MARKS

When Britney Eurton announced the winner, with a long, slow syllable-sliding emphasis on Cooooool, I let out a long, slow breath, pumped my fist once, felt the piece of paper in the pocket of my tuxedo jacket and walked to the stage, a crossing of the divide. My life's work finally making sense.

They give you a minute.

On behalf of American steeplechasing, we are honored to be part of Thoroughbred racing's biggest night and congratulations to all the finalists and winners.

To Pat Boyle and his family for having the faith in sending a 6-year-old maiden across the world.

To Sue and George Sensor, Lee McGettigan and Coe Eldredge and their families for having the confidence in Cool Jet and Riverdee Stable.

To Jack and Sheila Fisher. Once again, you have made our dreams come true.

To Paul, who rides Cool Jet every day, Jenna, Ashley and the rest of the Kingfisher team. Thank you.

To Annie and Miles, you have been there for Cool Jet's best days and his worst days. Mine, too. Annie, I would not be here without you.

To Mom, Dad, Joe, Sheila and all my family and friends, thank you for always believing. Dad, this is your kind of horse.

Most of all to Cool Jet and Bernie Dalton. If you're ever asked a trivia question about the oldest combination to win an Eclipse Award, go with the 9-year-old horse and the 57-year-old jockey who made magic in 2025.

And thank you to the voters. For the record, I had a vote, I abstained, and you got it right.

Thank you.

Every once in a while, words escape from a pipe-dream journal and you reach the stars you sought.

Win an Eclipse Award.

For a horse.

One of a Kind

HALL OF FAME TRAINER LEATHERBURY DIES AT 92

By Joe Clancy

Fifty-one years and 6,200 wins into his Thoroughbred training career, King T. Leatherbury explained his lot in life with three simple sentences.

"That's all I am. I'm just a horse trainer, and if I stop doin' that, I wouldn't be anything," he told writer Vinnie Perrone as part of a feature in Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred's May 2010 edition. "I wouldn't be King Leatherbury."

Leatherbury, 77 when he said that, trained for 13 more years, pushed the victory total to 6,508 (now fifth all-time), came up with his best horse in star turf sprinter Ben's Cat, gained induction into racing's national Hall of Fame and didn't stop being himself until his death at home in Mitchellville, Md., Feb. 10. He was 92.

Born in Baltimore in March 1933, Leatherbury grew up on a small farm in Shady Side, Md. His father W. Taylor Leatherbury bred and owned a few Thoroughbreds and was an Anne Arundel County commissioner. King, whose first name was his mother Evelyn's maiden name, got a degree in business administration from the University of Maryland and spent two years in the Army before striking out as a trainer.

"I wasn't after makin' money; I just wanted to do somethin' I enjoyed," he said as part of another profile in 2015. "I figured it this way: If I get a job somewhere five days a week, then Saturdays I'm gonna be out at the track anyway. And sure I'd make more money that way, but I wouldn't be where I wanted to be."

The first win came with Mister L at Florida's Sunshine Park in 1959, a season with 10 victories. A decade later, the total was 60. In 1972, he won 130 races to start a streak of 26 years with at least 100 wins. He topped 200 wins for 11 consecutive years (1974-84) and won at least 300 in four seasons (1975-78). He led the nation in victories twice, won at least 52 training titles in Maryland (26 each at Laurel Park and Pimlico Race Course) and led the Delaware Park table four times. Leatherbury's runners earned $64,693,537 in a career that ended with solo wins in 2021 and 2022 and a single start in January 2023.

Claiming horses fueled the bulk of those numbers as Leatherbury honed a handicappers' eye to find competitive spots for his horses and competitive horses to add to the stable. At his peak, he battled Bud Delp, John Tammarro and Dick Dutrow to form a Big Four at the top of the Mid-Atlantic in the 1970s and 1980s. They traded horses, barbs and wins.

Leatherbury approached training from a different angle, leaving the hands-on barn work and training to his staff and devoting time to studying past performances, speed figures and condition books. The payoff was success, everywhere he ran horses.

He won Grade 1 stakes with Catatonic and Taking Risks. The latter, a $20,000 claim in November 1993, won 10 races for Leatherbury including Monmouth Park's Phillip H. Iselin Handicap-G1 in 1994. Catatonic landed Belmont Park's Hempstead Handicap-G1 for Leatherbury in 1987. Other stable stars included Thirty Eight Paces, I Am the Game, Ah Day, Malibu Moonshine, Thirty Eight Go Go and Ameri Valay. Leatherbury started four horses in the Preakness Stakes-G1, finishing fourth with Thirty Eight Paces in 1981 and I Am the Game in 1985. Regional stalwart Port Conway Lane, who won 52 of 242 starts, started his career with Leatherbury and was claimed in and out of the stable for years. He and his trainer wound up on CBS Sunday Morning with Charles Kuralt.

For all that success, the trainer's last good horse changed everything.

Ben's Cat, a foal of 2006 who didn't start until May of his 4-year-old season, won 32 races and piled up $2,643,782 in earnings. A homebred son of Parker's Storm Cat and the Thirty Eight Paces mare Twofox (a Leatherbury trainee and close relative to $951,574-earner Ah Day), Ben's Cat won his first eight starts in 2010 – the first two for claiming tags of $20,000 and $25,000. He became Leatherbury's leading earner, and won 26 stakes. A turf sprinter who dabbled on dirt, he won four consecutive Maryland-bred Horse of the Year crowns (2011-14) and 13 Maryland-bred divisional titles. His remains are buried next to the Laurel paddock and the track hosts the Ben's Cat Stakes, formerly the Mister Diz (a race Ben's Cat won six times).

The success propelled Leatherbury into new conversations as he shopped opportunities for his horse. He mainly stayed in Maryland, but took forays to Parx, Penn National, Belmont Park for the 2014 Jaipur Stakes (a Grade 3 but a Grade 1 now) and entertained trips to the Breeders' Cup. Ever practical, Leatherbury didn't nominate his homebred to the international racing championship, didn't want to pay the supplemental fee himself and couldn't quite put together a partnership to make it happen. Not that it mattered. Ben's Cat won and won – everything from the Maryland Million to the Secretariat Vox Populi Award for resonating with the public.

His greatest achievement may have come off the racetrack as his success pushed Leatherbury into serious consideration for the National Museum of Racing's Hall of Fame. His name had come up, but the idea took real root and Leatherbury – then fourth on the career-victories list – was inducted in 2015.

The honor came with plenty of heft but Leatherbury kept it in perspective.

"I have received more awards and honors than any one man could ever expect in a lifetime, regardless of what the profession is," he said in 2015. "I just attained everything but that, so I certainly didn't need that; I wasn't lookin' forward to it. It wasn't a desire of mine, or an objective."

Of course, when it came time to really reflect, the Hall of Famer summed up why it mattered.

"It's the ultimate award in our industry," Leatherbury said before his induction. "So, I appreciate it very much."

That serious side balanced a routine bordering on stand-up comedy at the actual ceremony, much like similar speeches at the Alibi Breakfast during Preakness Week, the Maryland Horse Breeders Association's annual awards dinners or any number of other regional ceremonies. Over the years, he'd told a joke about the difference between "bettin' money" and "eatin' money," started a sentence with "a guy walks into a bar . . .," and finished one by comparing the dark-coated Ben's Cat to a cultural touchstone. Accepting a prize for Ben's Cat in Baltimore one night, Leatherbury said simply, "Black horses matter" before walking off the stage to laughter and applause.

The speeches became part of the man, as much as the horses, the collections of ties and walking sticks, the feeding of turkey vultures and the naming of his racing stable – The Jim Stable – after a character on Sesame Street appreciated by his sons.

Standing in front of racing's most accomplished people at the Hall of Fame ceremony in August 2015, Leatherbury went for self-deprecation.

"Anyhow, they called me up and said you're getting put in," he said, "and I naturally immediately called for a recount."

The votes were there, and so was Leatherbury.

Leatherbury is survived by his wife of 62 years, Linda Marie Heavener Leatherbury; twin sons, Taylor and Todd; and grandson Heavener.

Timmy Salzman

Trainer Timothy Edwin "Timmy" Salzman, 54, of Westminster, Md., died Feb. 7 after battling cancer. He was born Aug. 29, 1971, to John and Nancy Salzman, and was married to Megan Naecker Salzman for almost 23 years.

Known as Timmy to everyone, he grew up in the Laurel area and graduated from Atholton High School. He was raised in the racing industry with his father and brother, also trainers.

Salzman trained multiple Grade 2 stakes winner Bsharpsonata, whose 2-year-old season in 2007 included a debut win at Delaware Park in July and two stakes wins in the Mid-Atlantic. As a 3-year-old, she opened with wins in the Tropical Park Oaks, Forward Gal-G2 and Davona Dale-G2, then finished second (beaten a neck) in the Ashland-G1 and fifth in the Kentucky Oaks-G1. She posted six of her seven lifetime wins for Salzman and finished with $595,010 in career earnings. Salzman also won six stakes with Sensible Lady, a $9,500 juvenile purchase for Three Lyons Racing. He won with his first runner, Sharp Halo, at Laurel Park in 2003, and won 51 races as a trainer the next year. In 2007 he sent out the 2-year-old filly Kosmo's Buddy to her first victory. She would go on to win two stakes, including the Maryland Million Turf Sprint over males. Claimed away in her next-to-last start, she later produced Knicks Go.

JIM MCCUE

He won 425 races as a trainer and his horses earned $10,259,438. The last three starts of his career were all wins, with his wife's Where's Ray, at Laurel last fall.

Beyond racing, Salzman had a passion for baseball, coaching his son's teams over the years and his daughter's softball teams.

In addition to his wife, survivors include his, children Timothy "T.J." Jr., Hailey and Corey Salzman; and brother and sister-in law John Jr. and Marla Salzman.

Henry Wood

Former steeplechase owner and amateur jockey Henry Wood, twice a winner of the Iroquois Steeplechase as a rider, died in Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 29. He was 84.

Born in New Jersey in 1941, Wood was the son of Jean Haines Lightner and Henry Gauntt Wood Sr. A 1965 Auburn University graduate, Wood pursued a career in real estate with Pope and Carter Company as a commercial land broker. He later established his firm, Wood & Co., and became a prominent figure in Atlanta's commercial real-estate industry. In 2010, he joined Lavista Associates as a senior director and remained active there until his passing.

Wood grew up riding a pony on his grandparents' tennis court, and returned to horses in 1970 with the Shakerag Hounds in Georgia before turning to point-to-points and National Steeplechase Association races. He owned and rode Conserje (Chi) to multiple wins including the 1975 Iroquois, then restricted to amateur jockeys. Wood added another Iroquois in 1983 aboard Census, who went on to win multiple major steeplechases after selling to George Chase. Trained by Janet Elliot, Census won another Iroquois in 1984, the first Breeders' Cup Steeplechase in 1986 and was a regular foe of four-time steeplechase champion Flatterer in the 1980s.

Wood rode through 1999, finding success with Topeador (Chi) and Be Nimble in owner/rider timber races on the point-to-point circuit.

He is survived by his four children: Henry Gauntt Wood III (Mary Kathryn), Elizabeth Ann Wood (John Ehrenberger), Hannah Reeves Wood, and Jeffrey Atteridge Wood (Marsha); two stepsons: Stuart Hendrick Bracey (Melanie) and John Lesley Bracey (Erin); 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

DOUGLAS LEES (2)

Actor Robert Duvall (left) was a longtime northern Virginia resident and frequent guest at the Virginia Gold Cup steeplechase meet at Great Meadow. Here, he makes the trophy presentation to jockey Chip Miller and trainer Jack Fisher after Irv Naylor's Salmo won the Gold Cup in 2007. An Academy Award winner for Tender Mercies, Duvall played iconic roles in The Godfather, Apocalypse Now and dozens of other productions. He died Feb. 15 at age 95.

Quint's Brew needed every inch of the Laurel Park stretch to take the $100,000 Jennings Stakes for Maryland-bred older runners Jan. 17, scoring by a nose over Blue Kingdom.

Looking to defend his title in the Jennings after winning last year's edition by 6 lengths, Paul W. Berube, Karen Linnell and Heather Hunter's 5-year-old homebred son of Mosler, ridden by Eclipse Award apprentice rider finalist Yedsit Hazlewood, stumbled leaving the gate and wound up nearly a half-dozen lengths back in the early stages as Blue Kingdom, and then Maclean's Rook, cruised through modest fractions of :24.29 and :47.10.

Blue Kingdom regained the lead from Maclean's Rook from the outside after 6 furlongs in 1:11.72 with Quint's Brew looking to make his bid. At the eighth pole, Hazelwood gave Quint's Brew the green light to cut through traffic, requiring an outside angle to clear.

Despite digging in to hold onto the lead, Blue Kingdom did not have enough to resist Quint's Brew, who cut into the margin and stuck his nose out just in time after a mile in 1:37.37. Maclean's Rook, in his stakes debut, held on for third.

Trained by Ned Allard, Quint's Brew was making his second start off a seven-month layoff. He returned Dec. 20 to finish second to Slam Notion in the Howard and Sondra Bender Memorial Stakes. It was his fifth start of the year in which he won twice and was second three times while earning $280,000, enough to earn honors as a finalist for Maryland-bred champion older male.

After scoring in the Jennings to launch his 2025 season, he followed with a 5½-length score in the General George before heading north to finish second twice at Aqueduct – in the Carter-G2 (missing by a neck) and Westchester-G3. The 2026 Jennings was his fifth win in nine career starts, and pushed his earnings to $421,240. He returned to defend his General George title Feb. 14 but wasn't able to reel in the frontrunners and finished third.

He is one of three winners from three starters, all by Mosler, for the Jump Start mare Gansett, purchased by Berube for $13,500 at the 2014 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic May 2-year-old sale. Gansett won twice and earned $56,273 before becoming Berube's first broodmare. Her other runners are stakes-placed $166,203 earner Touisset and $152,909 earner Captain Quint, both four-time winners.

After being bred to Mosler for four years, Gansett delivered colts by Holy Boss in 2022 and 2024, although the first died as a foal. She returned to Mosler last year but lost the foal. She was bred to Cyberknife for 2026. ❧

Jim McCue (2)

Kasey K Racing Stable, Michael Day and Final Turn Racing Stable's homebred Takethemoneyhoney earned her second consecutive stakes victory in the 1-mile $100,000 Geisha Stakes for fillies and mares bred or sired in Maryland or Virginia, at Laurel Park Jan. 17.

Sent off the 1-10 favorite, she went to the front, faced pressure down the backstretch, but kicked into gear around the far turn to cruise to a 6¼-length victory over Navani, the longest shot on the board in the field of seven. The final time was 1:38.81.

The victory was the third at the stakes level for the 5-year-old daughter of Golden Lad trained by Michael Moore. She's made five consecutive stakes starts, kicking off with a win in her stakes debut in Monmouth Park's Serena's Song last May. After more than six months away, she returned to just miss in the Willa On the Move at Laurel Nov. 22. Her score in the Politely Stakes came Dec. 20 at Laurel. She came back Feb. 14 to miss by a nose when second in the Barbara Fritchie Stakes.

The first of her six victories in nine starts was a 13½-length romp at Parx Racing in her only outing at 2. Never worse than second, she has earnings of $351,770.

Takethemoneyhoney is the first foal out of the Great Notion mare Goodonehoney, a Maryland-bred full-sister to four-time stakes winner and $795,958 earner Twisted Ride, also trained by Moore. Bred by Kasey K and campaigned for the same partnership, Goodonehoney was 10-3-2-1 in her career, won the Weber City Miss Stakes in her second start, and was stakes-placed twice. She retired with $193,098 in the bank.

Goodonehoney has foaled in Pennsylvania since 2022. She is the dam of Wouldja Couldja, a daughter of Uncle Lino who was a winner last year at 3 and on the board in all three starts, has a 2-year-old Wicked Strong filly named Honeysmakemoney, and a Cloud Computing filly born in late April named Seriously Honey. Goodonehoney was bred to Golden Lad again for 2026. ❧

Maryland-bred Stakes Winners

Splendora wins inaugural D. Wayne Lukas Stakes-G2

Splendora kicked off her 5-year-old season with a win in the 7-furlong $200,000 D. Wayne Lukas Stakes-G2 Feb. 7 at Santa Anita Park.

Riding a three-race win streak, the most recent the Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare Sprint-G1 in November at Del Mar, the daughter of Audible, under jockey Juan Hernandez for Hall of Famer Bob Baffert, broke a step slow, stalked the pace of Me and Molly McGee and Formula Rossa behind fractions of :22.78 and :45.63.

At the top of the stretch, Splendora drew even with Me and Molly McGee, grabbed the lead midstretch and drew away to win by 1¾ lengths in 1:22.09.

At the Breeders' Cup, she took the 7-furlong Filly and Mare Sprint by 4¾ lengths. She recorded her first stakes win in the 1-mile Tranquility Lake in September at Del Mar after scoring a 6-furlong allowance by 3½ lengths in late July.

"It's just too bad she didn't get the championship at the Breeders' Cup. She is really that good," said Baffert.

Splendora was an Eclipse Award finalist in two divisions, garnering the second most first-place votes for female sprinter and third most for older dirt female. When Maryland-bred championship finalists were announced Feb. 13, she appeared in the sprinter and older female categories.

Splendora improved to 11-6-4-0, for earnings of $980,800. Bred by Stuart Grant's The Elkstone Group, she was purchased as a yearling for $125,000 by Michael Talla's By Talla Racing at the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky July sale in 2022.

Second in her only start at 2 behind stablemate and future multiple graded winner Kinza, Splendora didn't reappear for 10 months, and won a Santa Anita maiden special weight in October 2024. A month later, she won a Del Mar allowance.

That set her up for four straight graded stakes starts, all class-proving defeats. Second in the La Brea-G1 to cap 2024, she opened 2025 with a fourth in the Santa Monica-G2 and seconds in the Santa Maria-G2 and Santa Margarita-G2 (both at distances beyond a mile).

Splendora is the second foal out of stakes winner Miss Freeze (by Frost Giant). Purchased by Grant for $45,000 at the 2020 Keeneland November breeding stock sale with the Breeders' Cup winner in utero, Miss Freeze was sent back through the Keeneland November sale in 2023 and returned a $37,000 RNA.

The mare has since delivered 2023 Demarchelier (GB) colt Oracle of Beaufort, who has been working at Fair Hill this winter but has yet to start and, after failing to produce a foal in 2024, she delivered a Maryland-bred filly by Tiz the Law last March before being bred to National Treasure.

Her first foal, the filly Firsttimeinforever (by Always Dreaming), is a four-time winner and earner of $211,345.

Formerly the Santa Monica, the Lukas was renamed this year to honor the Hall of Fame trainer who died in June 2025. ❧

Vol. 3, Issue 3 Maryland Horse Library & Education Center Monthly News March 2026

No winter doldrums at the Library

Ice, Ice Baby. That was the theme for most of February as results of the late January storm lingered on, and on, and on. However, the inclement weather didn't keep Library supporters away.

Kicking off the Lunar Year of the Horse and America's 250th birthday year was our rescheduled January monthly Maryland Horse Library & Education Center presentation, originally intended for the day after the snow. Postponed to the following Monday, Feb. 2, some 20-plus hardy souls braved the cold to come out for a showing of the Rubicon Productions film Racing the Times. Released in 2015 and making its premiere at Baltimore's Senator Theater, the film chronicles the history of the sport of horse racing in Maryland and features interviews with historians and many of those directly connected to the sport in the state.

The film's producer, Drew Perkins, was on hand to give the audience some background on the film's production, which included numerous historical reenactments, as well as relate a few tricks of the film trade. Did anyone know that the Annapolis Subscription Plate trophy as seen in the film was a plastic bowl with handles added and painted silver? If you missed our event, stop into the Library as the film is available for viewing during the week.

Gifts support the Foundation

Regular library supporter Susan Osborn made the trip from Harford County with a large donation of books. The MHLEC is very appreciative of the many people who stop in to make donations toward our collection.

In the case of duplicate or higher numbers of copies of a title, the extra volumes are placed on our sale cart, with proceeds going into our collection maintenance or programs.

Plans are underway to host another book and art sale this May. Stay tuned for details on the upcoming event.

Meetings at the Library

Various groups utilize Library resources every month. Early winter visitors included a student group from Oldfields School's equine program who made a short field trip to research topics for a school assignment.

The Glyndon Women's Club spent a morning discussing their latest read, which happened to be Geraldine Brooks' novel Horse.

Franklin High School students returned to record another episode of their "Frankly-ly Speaking" podcast series in the Robert T. Manfuso Media Room.

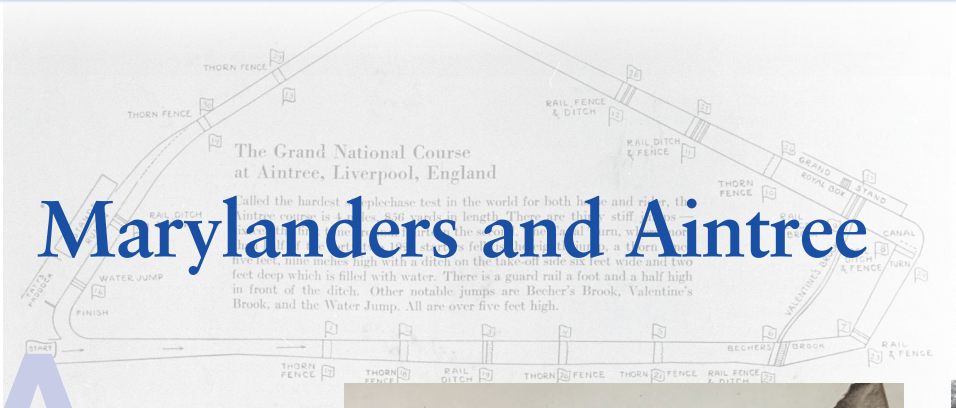
The Baltimore County Kennel Club and My Lady's Manor Driving Club, both regular supporters of the MHLEC, each held winter meetings.

Out and About

The Maryland State Legislative Session convened Jan. 14, and the Maryland Horse Foundation was well represented at several functions. Staff attended the Maryland Farm Bureau Legislative Breakfast, Taste of Maryland Agriculture night and Maryland Tourism Day to give faces to Maryland's horse industry.

We'll be back in Annapolis March 25 for "Rural Maryland Day" at Lawyers Mall, meeting with legislators and staffers and spreading the word on the importance of horses and the horse industry.

Marylanders and Aintree



A special joint fundraiser will be held at the Library on Monday, March 23, as we look back at the history of Marylanders and the English Grand National at Aintree.

The evening event will be a meet-and-greet with those who have special connections to Maryland's three great steeplechase horses who "crossed the pond" to compete in one of the toughest and most famous jumping races in the world.

Howard Bruce's Billy Barton, Mary Stephenson's Jay Trump and Redmond Stewart's *Ben Nevis II will be featured with film footage of their races and remarks and stories from those whose families were directly connected to them.

This is a ticketed event which benefits the Maryland Horse Foundation and Land Preservation Trust. Reservations are required. For information contact Maryanna@MarylandThoroughbred.com.

Clockwise from above: Billy Barton (far right) fights his way over the last fence in 1928 before finishing second; 1980 winner *Ben Nevis II and Charlie Fenwick; celebrations for Jay Trump and Tommy Smith in 1965.

The Jersey-Bred is a Champ

by Bill Finley

After a magical year on the racetrack, one that included a historic run at Saratoga, the New Jersey-bred Book'em Danno received the ultimate honor Jan. 22 when he was officially crowned champion sprinter of 2025.

In what was a close vote, he prevailed by a 115-to-82 margin over the Breeders' Cup Sprint-G1 winner Bentornato. Book'em Danno became the first New Jersey-bred to win an Eclipse Award since Open Mind, the champion 3-year-old filly in 1989. Open Mind was also named champion 2-year-old filly in 1988.

"It's a dream come true," said Jay Briscione, who heads the Atlantic Six Racing partnership that campaigns the son of Bucchero. "It felt incredible. The night couldn't have gone any better. It's just incredible what this horse has done, where he has brought us and what he has accomplished. When I was looking back trying to figure whether he would win the Eclipse Award or whether Bentornato would win, I realized he was a neck away from being undefeated with two Grade 1 wins, and that is pretty impressive."

The fact that Book'em Danno was born in New Jersey was not lost on Briscione.

"It was fun to have a Jersey-bred and represent the state in that kind of atmosphere," he said.

The Book'em Danno team knew that their horse was no cinch to win an Eclipse Award. Bentornato's case for a championship revolved around his win in the Breeders' Cup Sprint, a race that did not include Book'em Danno. Danno did not run after winning the Grade 1 Forego Stakes Aug. 23 at Saratoga, but those who voted for him obviously focused on the fact that he had the more complete campaign in 2025.

"It was a good award to win and he deserved it," trainer Derek Ryan said. "He had the best year of any sprinter. I figured that common sense would prevail and people would realize that it's supposed to be a year-round award."

Still, Briscione admitted to being nervous as the night wore on.

"I was reasonably confident going in because of his body of work," the owner said. "But I realize that a lot of people put a lot of weight on the Breeders' Cup, while others were saying that their vote is representative of what happens from January through December. It all depended upon which view you took. What got me worried was when they announced that [Super Corredora] won the 2-year-old filly championship. I didn't think she should have won because her only win was a maiden and the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies. I thought that Cy Fair should have won. She had beaten boys and she was a neck back from being undefeated. When I saw that, I was worried. I thought it was going to keep going to the Breeders' Cup winners. So I was getting nervous."

Book'em Danno was given time off over the late fall and early winter and was sent to Ocala. Ryan reported that the now-5-year-old gelding is back in training with him at Tampa Downs. Briscione added that the reports out of Ocala are that Book'em Danno is thriving.

"They tell us he's more muscular and powerful this year, which is supposed to be the case when you are five years old," Briscione said.

After mulling over a possible trip to Saudi Arabia or Dubai for the rich sprint races offered in the Middle East, the connections have decided to stay home this year. The focus, this time around, will be on making the Breeders' Cup Sprint.

"At the Eclipse Awards, we talked as a group and what we talked about was we didn't know we had a Breeders' Cup horse when we started out in Virginia last year," Briscione said. "Now we know we have a Breeders' Cup horse. Wherever we start, the idea will be to work back from the Breeders' Cup. That's the way we will approach this year. He will have a similar campaign to what he did last year, probably four or five races."

While Ryan and the team have yet to pick out a starting point for Book'em Danno's 2026 campaign, the connections are looking at the spring stakes schedules in Kentucky. Options include the April 4 Commonwealth Stakes-G3 at Keeneland and/or a return trip to the Churchill Downs Stakes-G1, which is where Book'em Danno suffered his only defeat in 2025.

Ridden throughout the year by Paco Lopez, Book'em Danno began his season with a win in a restricted handicap at Colonial Downs. He was then fourth, but beaten only a neck, in the Churchill Downs Stakes, which featured an all-star cast that also included Mindframe and Nysos. Next up was his historic campaign in Saratoga, where he won three graded stakes races – the True North-G3, Alfred G. Vanderbilt-G2 and Forego.

"It's an incredible feeling to buy a horse like that and all you're planning on is to run in Jersey-bred races," Briscione said. "Then he wins all those stakes at Saratoga and you wind up accepting an Eclipse Award. What a great year."

With the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey and Darby Development, the management team that runs Monmouth Park, having come to an agreement on the number of racing dates that the Monmouth meet may include going forward, what could have been nothing less than a crisis appears to have been averted. At least for now. But that doesn't mean that the racing and breeding programs in New Jersey don't need help, which includes receiving commitments from the state to continue to agree to a $10 million annual purse subsidy.

Mike Campbell, the executive director of the breeders' group, said that his organization plans to tell politicians the story of Book'em Danno and the ability the state's breeding industry has to produce championship caliber horses.

"This is a pivotal year for the New Jersey Thoroughbred industry, with the potential expansion of gambling beyond Atlantic City and the continuation of purse subsidies for 2027," Campbell said. "Book'em Danno's Eclipse Award demonstrates that champions can be born and raised in New Jersey. We will continue working with Darby Development and the NJTHA to educate the New Jersey Legislature on the importance of the state's equine industry. With their support, New Jersey racing can reach new heights and have sustained success."

TBANJ & Darby Development reach agreement on racing dates bill

The Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey (TBANJ) is pleased to announce that we have reached a definitive agreement with Darby Development, the permit holder at Monmouth Park, to support an amended bill that protects Thoroughbred racing and breeding in New Jersey.

The amended bill, which will be introduced in the upcoming legislative session, explicitly states that the minimum number of Thoroughbred race dates cannot be reduced to 25 unless the New Jersey Thoroughbred industry fails to receive a $10-million purse subsidy from the State of New Jersey. Furthermore, if the purse subsidy is reduced to $5 million, the minimum number of Thoroughbred race dates can be reduced to 40.

"The Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey will continue to work in lockstep with Darby Development and the New Jersey Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association to pursue additional revenue streams to strengthen purses and expand the New Jersey-bred incentive program," said Rory Huston, President of the TBANJ. "We are committed to defending an industry that generates a $780 million economic impact statewide and supports thousands of jobs across the Garden State."

"The New Jersey Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association, together with Dennis Drazin, assumed day-to-day operations of Monmouth Park to protect and preserve Thoroughbred racing and breeding in New Jersey," said Michael Campbell, Executive Director. "Without Dennis Drazin's leadership, dedication, and tireless efforts, Monmouth Park would not be operating today."

President's message

Congratulations to all our North Carolina members who participated in Thoroughbred racing, representing North Carolina, especially Art Bauer with his winning horse!

Bonnie Herring, President

Race Results

FORTUNATE MISSION, bred and owned by Art Bauer. Broke her maiden by 2¼ lengths Dec. 5 at Penn National, her fourth start as a 2-year-old. Fortunate Mission tracked the three path, was roused midway around the turn, angled out to the five path at the top of the lane, kicked on to bid passing the eighth pole, led passing the sixteenth, and drew clear.

HARTFUL HOPE, bred by Art Bauer. WON by 4½ lengths Dec. 19 at Mahoning Valley Race Course. Hartful Hope broke well, settled three-wide early, started a forward move from the 3-furlong pole, pulled even with A Kiss for Khozan at the quarter pole, then drew clear through the stretch under study handling and intermittent urging.

HORSES IN TRAINING - 2026

Please list the horses you have BRED or OWN that are in training or racing. The Association will put them into our stable on Daily Racing Form. We will keep up with them through this medium and have news for the association and for the Mid-Atlantic. We will only use horses that finish in the money.

This will let us know what our members are doing on the racing front and inform everyone about your successes.

I will still have to trust you to keep us informed regarding the breeding. I love receiving news on how the horses are doing, who you are breeding to, and how you did at the sales. It is hard to find the time to sit down and send me this information, BUT PLEASE TRY.

Please take the time to fill this out for your racing stock. Please list all horses, even the ones I already have, so I can keep our stable updated. Use another page if you need more room.

PA-Sired is the Way to Go

By Nikki Sherman

When breeders make decisions about where to breed a mare, the difference between a PA-Sired PA-Bred and a non-PA-Sired PA-Bred can feel subtle on paper. On the racetrack, however, that decision has very real financial consequences. In Pennsylvania, the numbers make a compelling case that PA-Sired is the way to go.

The breeder of a registered PA-Bred receives an award whenever that PA-Bred finishes first, second or third in any pari-mutuel race run in the state. For PA-Breds sired by registered Pennsylvania stallions, the breeder award amounts to 40 percent of the purse earned. For PA-Breds sired by out-of-state stallions, the award is 20 percent. That single distinction, 40 percent versus 20 percent, creates a significant earning gap that compounds over the course of a horse's career.

Owners benefit as well through Pennsylvania's Owner Bonus program, which rewards the owners of PA-Breds finishing first, second or third in designated races at Parx Racing, Penn National and Presque Isle Downs. Owner bonuses are a percentage of the purse share, are considered part of a horse's official earnings and are deposited directly into owners' accounts when purses are released. Owner bonus percentages vary by track, with Parx Racing currently offering a 40 percent owner bonus, Presque Isle Downs 30 percent and Penn National 25 percent.

Pachelbel, a daughter of Hoppertunity, made 17 starts in 2025, all at Parx, and earned $406,559 when factoring in awards and bonuses.

To illustrate how quickly the difference adds up, consider a $50,000 maiden special weight race at Parx Racing. A non-PA-Bred winner earns 60 percent of the purse, or $30,000, which is the full extent of the earnings tied to that victory. A PA-Bred that is not PA-Sired earns the same $30,000 purse share, plus a 40 percent owner bonus paid by the track, which equals $12,000. In addition, the breeder earns 20 percent of the purse share with the owner bonus, or $8,400, bringing the total earnings tied to that single win to $50,400.

A PA-Sired PA-Bred earns even more. The owner again earns the same $42,000. But the breeder awards increase to 40 percent of the purse share, bringing the total to $58,800 for the same $50,000 race. Stallion awards further increase the return for eligible Pennsylvania stallions.

That gap widens over time, particularly for breeders. The breeder of record remains the same no matter who subsequently owns the horse, meaning breeder awards continue for the life of the runner as long as it competes in Pennsylvania. Stallion awards are earned when a registered PA-Bred by a registered Pennsylvania stallion finishes first, second or third in the state and also remain tied to the stallion's ownership at the time of conception.

Beyond the raw earnings, PA-Breds also enjoy structural advantages within the racing program itself. After breaking a maiden, PA-Breds have access to allowance races restricted to Pennsylvania-Breds. It is important to note that clearing a condition in a restricted PA-Bred allowance does not count toward that same condition in an open allowance. A PA-Bred can win a non-winners of two races condition in a restricted race and still remain eligible for the open non-winners of two allowance, with the same structure applying at the non-winners of three level.

That advantage is illustrated clearly by Pachelbel, a daughter of Hoppertunity, who was standing in Pennsylvania at the time of her conception, making her a PA-Sired PA-Bred. Racing exclusively at Parx Racing in 2025, she benefited from the track's 40 percent PA-Bred owner bonus and the full PA-Sired breeder award structure.

Pachelbel won five races during the year, progressing through starter and allowance company. Because the allowance races she won earlier in the season were not restricted to PA-Breds, she later remained eligible for a non-winners of two races other than allowance written exclusively for PA-Breds, giving her an additional opportunity to earn at the same condition level. She also finished second in the $75,000 Disco Chick Stakes, a race restricted to PA-Sired PA-Breds.

On the racetrack alone, without awards or bonuses, Pachelbel earned $274,170 in 2025. According to the PHBA's most recent update, her season also generated $105,911.20 in breeder awards, $60,208 in owner bonuses and $26,477.80 in stallion awards. Combined, those incentives added $132,389 in addition to her regular purse earnings, bringing her total 2025 earnings to $406,559 and placing her atop the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund leaderboard.

Had Pachelbel not been PA-bred, her total earnings for the year would fall from $274,170 to $199,112, a difference of $75,058, in addition to forfeiting the $132,389 in additional awards.

When viewed race by race, the difference between PA-Sired and non-PA-Sired may appear incremental. But over the course of a season, and especially over the course of a career, the advantage becomes unmistakable. Higher breeder awards, stacked bonuses, stallion incentives and added condition flexibility all point to the same conclusion. For breeders and owners alike, PA-Sired is the way to go.

A few words from the Executive Secretary

Consistency is one of the biggest reasons to breed in Pennsylvania. We've paid out over $27.5 million on average the last 13 years. In 2025 we paid 321 breeders an award and 21 breeders surpassed $100,000. Add all that to 330 days of racing! You can't beat it!

The 2026 PA-Bred Stakes Schedule was recently emailed to all and a copy of it is in this newsletter. With the help of the PTHA we were able to add back the Banjo Picker and the Dr. Teresa Garofalo Memorial Stakes on PA Day at the Races, which will be held on July 18 at PARX. We also added the Lil E. Tee Stakes for 3yos going long that day.

Please remember that there will be no registration fee for the PA-Sired PA-Bred Stakes in 2026. If your horse is a PA-Sired PA-Bred, you will be automatically registered and eligible to run.

Get ready for our 2nd Annual Yearling Show, set for June 20 at Brandywine Polo Club. Prizes, ribbons and $40,000 in bonuses are available to all participants.

If you are still using paper registrations, please make sure you forward a signed copy of the Code of Ethics, which is attached to the registration form. We are transitioning to paperless in the first few months of this year and holding classes shortly on how to navigate the online registration system.

If you want to become part of our fantastic program or just want more information, give me a call at 610 444 1050. Remember, PA is the only place to breed and race!!

MARCH 2026

Racing Across the Nation

Three graduates of South Carolina training centers found their way to the winner's circle at the end of stakes races Dec. 30, Jan. 1 and Jan. 10.

On the second to last day of the year, the Rentz Farm Training Center former student Angie's Reward proved best in the Miss Behavior Stakes at Parx. While racing between horses early on, she then began to make her bid turning for home. Angie's Reward took the lead inside the eighth pole and crossed the finish line three-quarters of a length in front.

This 2-year-old filly by Warrior's Reward broke her maiden in her career debut at Penn National in July. She then had second and third place finishes leading up to the Miss Behavior. Angie's Reward is owned by the Warrior's Reward LLC, trained by Brandon Kulp and was ridden to victory by Angel Rodriguez.

The 3-year-old filly, Map of the Moon, is undefeated in three career starts. She broke her maiden at Keeneland in October and then captured the Stewart Manor Stakes at Aqueduct in November. On New Year's Day, Map of the Moon was the class of the field in the Gowell Stakes at Turfway Park. A former student of Frank Wooten at his training center in Camden, she stalked the pace while three wide during the early stages of the race. She came six wide into the stretch, wore down the leader at the sixteenth pole and sprinted clear to win by 1¾ lengths. Owned by NBS Stable, Map of the Moon is trained by Kelsey Danner and was ridden by Adam Beschizza.

Drexel Hill, who went through the breaking process at the Travis Durr Training Center, began her 2026 campaign leading the field to the finish line in the Wayward Lass Stakes at Tampa Bay Downs Jan. 10. Settling towards the back of the pack early on, the 4-year-old filly came five wide into the stretch taking over the lead and was clearly the best, finishing 1¾ lengths in front. In 10 career starts, she has three wins (two in stakes), four seconds and a third earning $576,520. Drexel Hill finished second in the 2025 Kentucky Oaks-G1, plus two other stakes. She is campaigned by Legion Racing, trained by Whit Beckman and was ridden by Ben Curtis in the Wayward Lass.

March racing in South Carolina

Racing action takes place in South Carolina in March on three consecutive weekends.

The 83rd running of the Aiken Trials will take place at the Aiken Training Track on Saturday, March 14. On the program are four or five races for 2-year-olds, maidens, and older horses that have won during their career. The 2-year-olds cover a quarter mile while the older horses go 4½ furlongs. A polo pony race and pony races fill out the program.

This is a great experience for 2-year-olds aiming to begin their careers at Keeneland in April. They have the opportunity to break from the gate with competition and perform in front of a crowd. For the older horses, the races are used as a tune-up before resuming their careers at tracks in Kentucky and New York. The following weekend, Saturday, March 21, the 69th renewal of the Aiken Spring Steeplechase takes place. This meet kicks off the 2026 National Steeplechase Association season. Six races are held, one on the flat and five over hurdles. The crowd consists of many locals and a large contingent of out-of-towners. Horses come in from up and down the East Coast.

On Saturday, March 28, the 91st running of the Carolina Cup Races will take place at the Springdale Racecourse in Camden. Total purses offered exceed $190,000. The feature event of the day is the $75,000 Carolina Cup going two miles and one furlong over national fences. The past two winners of the Carolina Cup, Abaan and China Beach, were trained by SCTOBA member Kate Dalton and ridden by her husband, Bernie.

Grant from The Jockey Club

The South Carolina Thoroughbred Owners & Breeders Association (SCTOBA) has received a grant from The Jockey Club, the national breed registry and long-standing advocate for the improvement of Thoroughbred breeding and racing.

The grant will help SCTOBA advance efforts that strengthen South Carolina's equine industry – a region known for its long history of Thoroughbred development and training. The support reflects The Jockey Club's ongoing commitment to fostering growth, integrity, and engagement within the sport nationwide.

"This grant underscores The Jockey Club's dedication to sustaining and advancing Thoroughbred racing," said Everett R. Dobson, Chair of The Jockey Club. "South Carolina plays an essential role in preparing horses and horsemen who contribute to the health of the industry across the country, and we're proud to assist SCTOBA in its efforts to further that mission."

"We greatly appreciate The Jockey Club's support and recognition of South Carolina's importance in the national Thoroughbred landscape," said Kip Elser, Director of SCTOBA. "This grant allows us to expand educational outreach and continue promoting opportunities that strengthen the state's equine economy for breeders, trainers, and fans alike."

South Carolina and the 2025 Eclipse Awards

Book'em Danno was named 2025 Eclipse Award Male Sprinter. The highlight of his campaign last year was capturing three graded stakes during the Saratoga meet. He won the True North-G3 June 7, the Alfred G. Vanderbilt-G2 July 19 and the Forego Stakes-G1 Aug. 23. Book'em Danno won four of his five starts in 2025. During his career, he has a record of 10 wins from 16 starts, including eight stakes, with $1,885,425 in career earnings.

Book'em Danno was prepared for his racing career by Randy and Kala Rentz at their training center in Erhardt. He is owned by Atlantic Six Racing and trained by Derek Ryan.

Journalism was a finalist in the 2025 Eclipse Award 3-year-old category and Horse of the Year voting. Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners is a member of the ownership group. Eclipse maintains an office in Aiken following its merger with Cot Campbell's Dogwood Stable in 2013.

Stuart Grant's The Elkstone Group LLC is the breeder of Splendora, who was a finalist in the 2025 female sprinter and older female categories. Grant is a SCTOBA member and owner of the Camden Training Center.

VIRGINIA

GIGANTE NAMED VIRGINIA-BRED HORSE OF THE YEAR; AWARDS CEREMONY TO BE HELD AT COLONIAL DOWNS ON VIRGINIA DERBY DAY

Million-dollar earning Gigante, named 2025 Virginia-Bred Horse of the Year, headlines a slate of award winners whose connections will receive hardware for their efforts Saturday March 14 at Colonial Downs. The trophy presentations will take place on the winner's circle stage between races during the prestigious Virginia Derby Day card in New Kent.

Gigante Named Virginia-Bred Horse of the Year

Gigante, owned by L and N Racing LLC and Clark Brewster, had three wins last year — two on grass and one on dirt — and $241,578 in earnings. The 6-year-old Not This Time horse was also named Virginia-bred Turf Horse of the Year. Gigante kicked off the year with a victory in the Colonel E. R. Bradley Stakes at Fair Grounds, then after stakes placed efforts in the Grade 2 Muniz Memorial in New Orleans and the Find Stakes at Colonial Downs, won back-to-back starts at Remington — the Remington Green Stakes and an allowance. The Steve Asmussen trainee was bred by Ann Mudge Backer & Smitten Farm.

Of Gigante's 31 career starts, seven took place at the New Kent track including wins in the 2023 Secretariat Stakes (Gr. 2), 2022 Kitten's Joy Stakes and a maiden special weight score the same year. Overall, the Virginia award winner has bankrolled $1,371,978 heading into action this spring.

Another million-dollar earner was named Top Virginia-bred Older Male. Eight-year-old Tapiture gelding Repo Rocks took honors by winning the Edward P. Evans Stakes at Colonial and collecting top-three finishes in two other stakes — a third in the Grade 3 Philip H. Iselin at Monmouth and a second in the Boston Handicap in New Kent. The Jamie Ness trainee was also runner-up in a Parx allowance. Bred by Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, Repo Rocks has career earnings of $1,150,466 — $184,875 of which came in 2025. The award recipient is owned by Double B Racing Stables.

John Wade's 4-year-old Not This Time filly Winfinity took honors as Top Virginia-bred Older Filly/Mare. Bred by Ann Mudge Backer & Smitten Farm, the award winner made her presence felt in New Kent with a victory in the $125,000 Miss Disco Stakes July 12, a pair of close seconds in a $101,000 spring allowance and in summer's $127,000 All Brandy Stakes. She even collected a third in a $100,000 handicap on closing day. The John Ortiz trainee bankrolled $143,480 from seven starts last year.

Top Virginia-bred Two-Year-Old honors went to Larry Johnson's Doubting Thomas who captured the $125,000 Jamestown Stakes on turf in gate-to-wire fashion. One month prior, the Carvaggio colt came from behind to win an $87,500 maiden special weight against ten other turf sprinters. With only two lifetime starts, the Michael Trombetta trainee has earnings of $127,500, He was bred by the late Larry Johnson at his Legacy Farm in Bluemont and is owned by Johnson's Estate.

Multi-million dollar earning Mindframe, also bred by Johnson, was named Top Virginia-Certified Older Male based on a stellar season that included a pair of Grade 1 stakes wins and a Grade 2 score. The 5-year-old Constitution horse won the Churchill Downs Stakes (Gr. 1) by a neck in May then came back a month later and prevailed in the Stephen Foster (Gr. 1) by a length over Sierra Leone. He kicked off the 2025 campaign with a win in the Gulfstream Park Mile (Gr. 2) and overall, amassed $1.4 million in winnings last year alone. Owned by Repole Stables and St. Elias Stables, Mindframe is trained by Todd Pletcher and has $2,054,580 in career earnings from just nine outings.

The Estate of Larry Johnson's Future Is Now powered home to three stakes victories in 2025, compiled earnings of $366,000 and as a result, was named Virginia-Certified Older Filly & Mare of the Year. The 6-year-old Great Notion mare reached the winners circle in the Giant's Causeway Stakes (Gr. 3) at Keeneland by a nose in April, the Caress Stakes (Gr. 3) at Saratoga by one-half length in July, and the Smart and Fancy Stakes at Saratoga the following month. In June, Future Is Now was runner-up in the Intercontinental Stakes at Saratoga (Gr. 2). Overall, the Michael Trombetta trainee has earned $967,000 in winnings from 18 career starts. He was bred by Johnson and was certified at his Legacy Farm.

Just Philtored, a now 3-year-old great Notion filly, was named Top Virginia-Certified 2-Year-Old courtesy of an outstanding 2025 campaign where she won four races and bankrolled $279,430. Bred by ZWP Stable & Non Stop Stable of Maryland, the winner spent her 6-month Virginia residency at Woodberry Payne's Braeburn Training Center in Montpelier Station. Another Trombetta trainee, Just Philtored won two stakes in New Kent including the Dolley Madison in an impressive gate-to-wire performance with Mychel Sanchez in the irons, and the Keswick Stakes by a neck with Sanchez up again. Later in the year, she prevailed in the Maryland Juvenile Filly Stakes at Laurel.

Madison Meyers, whose operation is based out of the Middleburg Training Center, will be awarded Top Trainer honors on March 14. In 2025, she sent 146 starters out to compete and collected 19 wins, 15 seconds & 12 thirds, good for $1,043,173 in purse earnings. Desvio, her star performer, won the Grade 2 Sycamore Stakes at Keeneland in October which followed a second in New Kent's Colonial Cup Stakes and third place finishes in a pair of Grade 2's — the Red Smith at Aqueduct and the Dinner Party at Pimlico. Meyers also scored wins with six different horses at Colonial Downs: Secure's Hope, Rector, Phil's Prince, Twain, War Madam and Ruby Hamilton.

Larry Johnson, who had 18 Virginia-breds in action last year that compiled $861,273 in winnings, was named Virginia Breeder of the Year. In addition to Doubting Thomas, some other of his top competitors included Noquestionaboutit who bankrolled $111,600 and had a maiden special weight and allowance win at Laurel, Hark Theangelssing who amassed $108,900 and had a winning maiden special weight effort at Colonial, and Noquestionaboutit ($107,613) whose 2025 highlight was a triumph in the Glen Petty Stakes.

Charles Town Races: A Pillar Amid Ups and Downs

By Jeff Gilleas

Has Charles Town Races assumed a leadership role in Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred racing?

The following components have helped to define the current success of West Virginia's premier racing establishment.

1) Year-round Thoroughbred racing
2) The Charles Town Classic
3) The Breeders Classic
4) Stable purse structure
5) Steady employment opportunities
6) Realistic earning potential versus boutique meets
7) Business friendly Legislature

Charles Town Races opened on Dec. 2, 1933, and though accustomed to its share of volatility has survived in the 2000s due to a static horse, owner and trainer population, while the breeding industry keeps the lights on with an affinity towards reasonableness, and a predictable marketplace. The track has played a pivotal role in Mid-Atlantic horse racing for decades, as names like Sylvia Bishop, Barbara Jo Rubin and Sam Huff continue germane to its cultural heritage and pioneering relevance.

Located in the Eastern Panhandle, it hosts roughly 160 live racing dates and its 2026 stakes schedule features high-purse stakes like the Charles Town Classic and Charles Town Oaks. Economically, the track is the cornerstone of Jefferson County and West Virginia's entertainment experience.

Contributing over $300 million in business volume and supporting more than 7,000 jobs across the state, Charles Town accounts for nearly half of that impact. A healthy racing calendar provides jobs on the backside, but also in agriculture, transportation, hospitality and its support services.

In 2025, West Virginia's legislature passed Senate Bill 75, restoring critical purse funding. This enabled Charles Town to increase purses by 10 percent, with an additional increase slated for the first quarter of this year.

The breeding program is centrally located in the region, and though considered small by Kentucky standards, remains highly durable. Its business model is proof that you don't need a $25,000 stud fee to be competitive. Breeders in West Virginia are realistic knowing they may not produce a Derby winner, but can make a living by grinding out checks with lucrative state bred incentives. Breeders in West Virginia possess a deep community presence.

Charles Town Races track configuration helps determine pairings of stallions and mares, as sensible breeders rationalize the need for speed and soundness as they access local keys to success. Charles Town's development program is Racentric. It is the hidden scaffolding that strengthens field size, while keeping the entire industry stable.

A central institution is the West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association (WVTBA). Established in 1968, its members work to protect breeder interests, encourage breeding within the state, and provide the necessary tools to make the breeding industry a profitable entity.

While West Virginia breeders are not a major economic driver on a national scale, the local sector contributes to livelihoods, agricultural, cultural diversity and tourism. Races for West Virginia bred horses generally fill easily, encourage frequent starts and are on a par with open races.

Most breeders race what they breed. This enables money to keep circulating in the economic chain. Naysayers say breeders trade a broad base for a narrow peak. It may be a blue collar approach, but it works to give second chance runners and late bloomers an opportunity.

It keeps smaller breeders alive. Charles Town racing and breeding is about survival not fashionability. The West Virginia Development Fund distributes millions annually among breeders, owners, and sire owners of Accredited West Virginia-bred or -sired horses based on their racing earnings.

Supplemental purse awards up to 10 percent of the winner's purse go to the breeder, owner and the sire owner of a West Virginia-bred sired winner in eligible races. To drive demand for West Virginia-bred or -sired horses, the Hollywood Casino at Charles Town Races host multiple races per day for restricted horses.

The West Virginia Breeders Classic has generated more than $31 million in purses over 30-plus years and remains the fall highlight on the racing calendar. In West Virginia breeding economics are directly tied to racing activity.

Racing for profit in West Virginia is doable. You must be cold-blooded about your decisions and use a no-nonsense playbook. West Virginia remains one of the few states where math can still work if you are disciplined.

Don't let emotions drive decisions. Remember your job is to:

a) keep costs low
b) target restricted races
c) take advantage of the incentive programs
d) spot your horses well

Over the years, Charles Town has proven a shelter during economic downturns, as modestly-valued horses seek refuge here. I prefer to label Charles Town as the "working man's" track.

From a handicapping perspective trips matter more than raw talent. Purse money here versus costs is one of the best ratios found in the country. Training costs are lower than New York, Kentucky and Florida. At Charles Town you're not paying elite prices to chase real purses.

A win at Charles Town Races with a West Virginia-bred horse includes the purse, breeder award and owner award. Because horsemen value their West Virginia bred runners you're not constantly facing fields with dramatic class droppers.

Through the years sire lines with Speightstown and Storm Cat have done well due to speed and precocity. Study offspring results at Charles Town. It's a good idea to breed for where you are running, not where you wish you were running.

Dominant aspects of leading sires Fiber Sonde and Juba are track-appropriate, cost-efficient, high ceiling/low cost and toughness. Functional sires to consider if you can't get to Fiber Sonde and Juba are Bullsbay, Golden Years, Redirect and My Prankster.

If you want a complete list of useful stallions and the programs available in West Virginia contact the WVTBA.

Benefits of Owning a WV-Bred and/or -Sired racehorse

SOME OF THE BEST INCENTIVES IN THE NATION!

- A minimum of three accredited races are written every day at Charles Town exclusively for registered WV-bred and/or -sired horses.
- West Virginia has the only program in the country that permits horses to win state-bred races that do not count against the horse's lifetime open conditions.
- The WV Thoroughbred Development Fund distributes over $4.5 million to breeders, owners, and stallion owners of accredited WV-bred and/or -sired horses based the horse's annual earnings at Charles Town and Mountaineer Park racetracks.
- The West Virginia Breeders Classics pays out almost $1 million in purses for WV-bred and/or -sired horses. It is held annually on the second Saturday in October.
- $800,000 in purses are allocated for up to 16 WV accredited stakes races during the year.
- Supplemental Purse Awards of up to 10% of the winner's share of the purse to the owner, breeder, and/or sire owner of the accredited WV-bred and/or -sired winner.
- West Virginia offers year-round racing with approximately 165 race days per year.

Racing, charity bisect for positive impact within the sport itself and for the broader community

By Betsy Burke Donley

For 72 years, the Potomac Hunt Races have meant more to their community than just a day of racing in Maryland's narrow greenbelt region west of Washington, D.C. The meet started in 1952 has long been the unofficial kickoff to the summer social scene as well as a supportive benefactor to local and national charities.

The link between horse racing and charity is long and strong.

It's a symbiotic bond that benefits both, says longtime Potomac joint-master and race chair Skip Crawford.

"The races are about a lot more than just horses and picnics," Crawford says. "It's about charity, and supporting important causes."

For the past 10 years, proceeds from the Potomac Races, which run Sunday, have benefited TAPS – Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors, a national program based in Arlington, Virginia with, naturally, deep ties to the Pentagon, Arlington Cemetery and the U.S. military.

The tie is important, to the hunt and to the charity, Crawford says, as well as to the spectators, who look at a day at the races as a feel-good two-fer to support a good cause at the same time as a fun day in the country.

"We're committed to serving the area by contributing to multiple nonprofit organizations that have a direct impact on the lives of so many people," Crawford says. "It's a beautiful relationship."

There's a direct, compelling link between TAPS and Potomac.

Former joint-master Beverly Bosselmann lost her son, Marine Corps Cpl. Kirk Bosselmann in Operation Iraqi Freedom in 2004.

Beverly Bosselmann drew strength from TAPS support, and with her bond to the Potomac Hunt, it made TAPS a natural charity partner.

Bonnie Carroll says she loves the connection. "I adore it that the races continue to honor the life, legacy and sacrifice of Corporal Bosselmann," Carroll says. "The pony races are run in Kirk's memory, a tribute to his life growing up in the Potomac Hunt and point-to-point world."

Carroll, too, has tight ties to the area. Though she lives in Alaska now, and commutes regularly to Arlington (she'll be at Potomac on Sunday), she graduated from the Morven Park Equestrian Institute in Leesburg, Virginia, and used to work for Mike DuPont and Orange County Hounds. She worked for Diana and Bert Firestone, helping run the broodmare barn and had a hand in breaking their 1980 Kentucky Derby winning filly, Genuine Risk.

She formed TAPS in 1994 after her husband, Gen. Tom Carroll, was killed in an army plane crash in 1992. "I knew there was a great need," Bonnie Carroll explains, "for support of military survivors. Sometimes, you're lost after such a loss. It's a great service to have help from your (peers.)

"With regards to our ongoing partnership with the Potomac Races, I'm very grateful. It's just so American, so patriotic, and a perfect connection right now around Memorial Day. The whole personal horse connection is amazing."

Crawford explains there are as many formulas for dividing labor for and proceeds from the races as there are meets. For Potomac and TAPS, one thing that works is for the charity to take full ownership of operating and benefiting from the event's off-site remote parking and shuttle bus program.

"We can't afford to have the local roads backed up," Crawford says. "It's just impossible for volunteers to handle all the cars that come in."

Instead of risking gridlock headed in to Bittersweet Field, they contract nearby remote parking locations, with buses shuttling spectators to the course.

At $10 per person, it's a bargain for racegoers who don't have to deal with long waits and long walks since the buses have various drop off points when they get in the gate.

After the last, buses shuttle fans back to their cars.

TAPS manages the professional gatekeepers and ticket-takers, and they keep all the remote parking profits in return.

It leaves Potomac subscribers and friends free to handle the heavy lifting involved in prepping the course. "We need the young guys to get those national fences out of that big (tractor trailer that delivers the jumps to each meet)," Crawford says. "We're all volunteers, and, basically, we have to beg, borrow and steal our way to setting this up every spring. It's not a simple job."

Crawford was Potomac joint-master more than 25 years, but he still recalls his very first assigned task to help the race committee. "I was the new guy. They said, hey, can you cut cedar trees and stuff the brush boxes for our brush jumps. That was before national fences of course.

"Boy, that was hard work. You wouldn't've believed how many cedar branches it took to properly stuff a hurdle back then."

He says the charity selection process over the decades hasn't followed a particular method. "We've partnered with several different charities over the years," he says. "Sometimes, our charity has decided to host their own annual event, which opens us up to support another local group."

Call them 'the routers' of the 'chase circuit

Potomac Races aren't exactly an outlier on the point-to-point and National Steeplechase Association circuits in terms of a charity link.

For instance, the Radnor Hunt Races in Malvern, Pennsylvania run to benefit the Brandywine Conservancy.

The arranged marriage happened in 1980 when Betty Moran and Frolic Weymouth came up with the partnership and a catchy slogan, Radnor: Racing for Open Space. For 45 years, the conservancy has been sole beneficiary, with more than $5.5 million raised to protect open space and water resources in southeastern Pennsylvania and northern Delaware.

Other meets have mega impact.

Since 1981, Nashville's Iroquois Steeplechase has raised more than $11 million for Vanderbilt Children's Hospital. The hospital provides pediatric care regardless of ability to pay, and Iroquois' "steadfast commitment to these causes exemplifies our deep-rooted connection to the people and the greater good of Nashville and Tennesseans across the state," longtime race chair Dwight Hall wrote in an op-ed in the Tennessean newspaper. "Every attendee plays a role in these charitable donations, (through) ticket and tailgate sales."

Far Hills in New Jersey is another heavy-hitter, credited with more than $20 million in funding for local healthcare organizations.

"The Far Hills race meet is a fabulous event for many, many reasons," race chair Guy Torsilieri said in an interview. "Both for its charitable aspects as well as the world-class horse racing. Over the years, we've given millions and millions of dollars to local charities."

Pennsylvania Hunt Cup has raised close to $2 million for the Chester County Food Bank and other charities. When the races were forced to cancel in 2024 due to turf conditions, more than half of the ticket holders donated their ticket money directly to the Chester County Food Bank, which distributes over 4.6 million pounds of food annually.

The Foxfield Races in Charlottesville, Virginia, make a point of publicly donating to their philanthropic partners at each race meet. In 2021, Habitat for Humanity of Greater Charlottesville was announced as the long term partner of the fall races. In 2022, Camp Holiday Trails was announced as the long term partner for the spring races. Foxfield is committed to not only monetarily supporting their partners after race day, but actively engaging in their programs and work throughout the year, celebrating and supporting their community work by amplifying their messages, and spreading their missions to a broader community. Foxfield Races board members can be found building houses for their local Habitat for Humanity annually.

Joined by this year's Child Ambassador, Caroline, and Tyson Moore from Bank of America, they answered questions live from the Ryan Seacrest Studio about what it's like to be a jockey, shared stories about horse racing, and even competed in a little friendly in-studio game of their own.

Caroline stole the show as co-host - especially excited to meet Graham Watters, the rider of her favorite horse, Snap Decision, who was chasing a historic fourth win in the 2025 Calvin Hougland Iroquois (he finished second).

At Iroquois Steeplechase it's about more than the races. It's about community, compassion and connection.

Vol. 16, No. 3
MARCH 1951

75 years ago

■ The Maryland racing dates were out, with changes galore. Laurel – making its bow under the management of the Morris Schapiro family – would kick off the 1951 season in March.

Bowie, placed in receivership following a shake-up within the corporate structure, had a total of 25 days – 12 in the spring and 13 in late November following Pimlico's fall meet. Bowie would operate under court-appointed receiver M. Hampton Magruder, president of the track years earlier. Magruder would be assisted by former Laurel president Major Goss L. Stryker and James P. Ross, former Havre de Grace superintendent, the latter named general manager.

Pimlico also had a new president as Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, formerly in the same position at Havre de Grace, was the new chief, succeeding Henry A. Parr III after his resignation in February. Janon Fisher Jr., former president of the Maryland Horse Breeders Association, secretary the American Trainers' Association and longtime Maryland breeder-owner-trainer, was elected vice president and treasurer. Pimlico and Laurel absorbed the 25 days conducted at Havre de Grace, which had been sold to Laurel and Pimlico.

The mile tracks would run 100 days – 55 from March 23 through May 26, and 45 from Oct. 10 through Dec. 1. The half-mile tracks – Cumberland, Hagerstown, Bel Air, Timonium and Marlboro – filled the summer, July 17 through Sept. 22.

■ A special train service for Laurel's 24-day spring meet was announced by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which ran directly through the track property. On weekdays, except Wednesday, the train from Philadelphia would consist of a diner, a coffee shop car and eight coaches. Wednesdays, the coaches would be increased to 10 and on Saturdays to 11.

■ The purse for the Diamond Jubilee Preakness Stakes was increased from $50,000 to $75,000. And a new race, the Black-Eyed Susan, was added to the stakes schedule. The filly counterpart of the Preakness would be run the week before the classic and in place of the Pimlico Oaks, last run in 1949. The Black-Eyed Susan carried a $10,000 purse and would be contested at the same 1 3/16 miles as the Preakness.

■ Louis McLean Merryman, chairman of the Maryland State Fair's bond sales committee, put out an open letter seeking supporters in the non-profit corporation. Bonds cost $500, plus $5 for one share of stock. Approximately $125,000 was needed to eliminate a bank loan. "It is a sound investment which will not only benefit the agricultural industry but will also benefit you personally," Merryman wrote. "Over 450 Maryland farmers and agriculturally minded people have [to date] subscribed."

■ Veteran sire Peace Chance, standing as the property of Holly Beach Farm and Danny Shea at Merryland Farm in Hydes, Md., appeared on the cover. The 1934 Belmont Stakes winner was among the nation's leading sires in the 1940s, and one of a half-dozen Maryland sires with offspring nominated to the 1951 Kentucky Derby.

■ Renowned Maryland steeplechaser Billy Barton died in his sleep at age 33 in his stall at his longtime home, Belmont Farm, in Elkridge, where he was buried. Howard Bruce's irascible gelding used his jumping form to advantage in just about every major event on this side of the Atlantic, and finished a gallant second to Tipperary Tim in the 1928 Grand National at Aintree in England.

A statue of Billy Barton has stood outside Laurel Park's clubhouse entrance since 1952.

■ Named after owner Matt Dorman's father, Sonny Inspired picked up the first stakes win of his 27-start career in Laurel Park's Fire Plug. A $20,000 purchase at the 2012 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic fall yearling sale from the Thornmar Farm consignment, the Maryland-bred colt was "tall and lanky and had a pretty strong personality," said Dorman. Dorman felt a personal connection to the son of Artie Schiller, as his father Arthur Dorman – Artie for short – introduced his son to racing years earlier at Bowie Race Track. The elder Dorman, who passed away in 2012, was nicknamed "Sonny."

Trained by Phil Schoenthal, Sonny Inspired earned $643,045 in 65 starts, counting 11 wins, four in stakes.

■ Page McKenney became a millionaire ($1,021,978) with a win in the Native Dancer Stakes Jan. 2. Trained by Mary Eppler, the 6-year-old Pennsylvania-bred gelding owned by Adam Staple and Jalin Stable won for the 15th time and seventh in Maryland. Bred by Dr. James E. Bryant and Linda P. Davis, he lost the first dozen races of his career until winning for a $16,000 tag at Colonial Downs in 2013.

Sonny Hine had two classic hopefuls in 1976.

■ Classic hopefuls and Maryland-breds Cojak and Princely Game headlined the stable trained by Hubert "Sonny" Hine, a former espionage agent who once worked for the FBI and State Department. Zelda Cohen's homebred Princely Game was 4-for-5 to start his 3-year-old season, winning three stakes, while Entremont runner Cojak, a winner of three stakes at 2, finished second by a nose in the Swift Stakes-G3 at Aqueduct in his sophomore debut.

With all Hine's successes, the twists and turns of his life were equally compelling. When asked how he wound up in the spy business, he replied: "Actually it was a combination of being flat broke at Charles Town and knowing J. Edgar Hoover well enough to talk."

Hine was 17 when Hoover got him a job with the FBI in 1948. Hine became a full-time trainer in 1957, launching a Hall of Fame career highlighted by Hall of Famer Skip Away. Cojak ran in the 1976 Kentucky Derby and Preakness, finishing sixth and fourth, respectively. Princely Game was sidelined by injury and missed the classics.

■ Robert G. Leavitt retired as general manager of Shenandoah Downs, ending a 44-year career in racing and an 18-year association with the track. Leavitt took over Shenandoah when it was still under construction, and opened it on May 1, 1959, as the first night Thoroughbred track in the Mid-Atlantic. In addition to night racing, Leavitt introduced area Thoroughbred fans to other innovative ideas, including so-called exotic betting, with the Big Bonanza in 1960.

■ Lianga, a daughter of Dancer's Image (who stood at Maryland's Glade Valley Farm when she was conceived) was honored as England's 1975 filly/mare sprint champion. Bred in Maryland by Pennsylvania horsewoman Diana Donaldson, Lianga was foaled at Sagamore, where Alec Wildenstein (son of owner Daniel Wildenstein) picked out the filly as a likely prospect, subsequently purchased her and shipped her to France in December 1972.

Not only was she a multiple Group 1 winner, Lianga became an influential broodmare. Among her descendants are Kentucky Derby-G1 winner, champion and major sire Street Sense, top sprinters and sires Vekoma and Mr. Greeley, and multiple Grade 1-winning millionaire Paradise Woods.

■ Two-time Maryland-bred champion Christopher R. was off to a quick start in the new season, winning a stakes a month. Sent to Aqueduct, he edged fellow Maryland-bred North Call in the Sporting Plate Handicap, and was back at Bowie to score in the Native Dancer.

■ Mary Hirsch McLennan, among the first women licensed as trainers in the U.S. and the first woman to saddle a Kentucky Derby starter (in 1937), died at 63. She was the widow of racing secretary and handicapper Charles J. McLennan and daughter of Hall of Fame trainer Max Hirsch.

■ Allen's Prospect led the region's sire ranks by every measure. His progeny earnings in 2000 topped $4 million. He earned his third consecutive title, and fourth overall, as the nation's leading sire by winners, with 125 in 2000. Through early February 2001, he was the nation's leading sire by earnings. Among his eight 2000 stakes winners were Maryland-bred Horse of the Year and champion 3-year-old filly Gin Talking and champion 2-year-old filly Your Out.

Citidancer, who stood alongside Allen's Prospect at Country Life Farm in Bel Air, was also represented by two Maryland-bred champions: 3-year-old male Disco Rico and older female Hookedonthefeelin.

In more news from Country Life, the first foal for first-year sire Malibu Moon arrived Feb. 3.

Bred by B. Wayne Hughes, the Malibu Moon colt out of the unplaced Wild Again mare Tova's Princess was Point Dume, who raced seven years, placed in multiple stakes and earned $240,128. If the name sounds familiar, a modern-day Point Dume (foaled in 2021), opened 2026 with back-to-back wins at Laurel Park, including the General George Stakes Feb. 14. His dam, Maya Malibu, is by Malibu Moon. The Point Dumes are named for a spot in Malibu, Calif., that forms the northern end of Santa Monica Bay.

LYDIA A. WILLIAMS

The first Point Dume, by Malibu Moon, in 2001.

■ An Animal Planet series was set to debut in April, filmed to capture "the very real day-to-day drama of life at the Boniface family's Bonita Farm." The weekly half-hour program Thoroughbred would air 13 weeks. Each show was an independent tale, but together the pieces provided a rare look at an important part of the Thoroughbred world with the Darlington, Md., farm as the backdrop. Said executive producer Nancy LeBrun about working with the family: "Each one seemed more gregarious, charming and competent than the last. They look good, they talk well, they're very at ease and spontaneous in front of the camera and very compassionate about their animals."

■ Vinnie Perrone examined the challenge of improving the racing product for bettors, as horseplayers were abandoning Laurel and Pimlico for more enticing simulcasts. Changes at the Maryland tracks included the recent hire of longtime track executive Lou Raffetto Jr. from Suffolk Downs as the new chief operating officer at Laurel/Pimlico, "with the explicit mandate to improve the quality of racing, to make it a tastier betting product."

Weathering Storms

Some things never change. Horses and people made it work at Laurel Park during the harsh winter of 1984.

Walter M. "Skip" Ball was an award-winning staff photographer for Maryland Horse magazine from the mid-1960s to the late 1980s. His children donated his work to the Maryland Horse Breeders Association several years ago, and the photographs are part of the Maryland Horse Library as the Skip Ball Collection. In the next stages of our archiving projects, Ball's films and slides have been digitized to preserve this gifted photographer's legacy.

Mid-Atlantic 2025 Statistical Review

— The Numbers Game —

When it comes to statistics, there are two main camps. One believes they are valuable tools to compare or evaluate performances. The other embraces the "Lies, damned lies and statistics" phrase that means numbers bolster weak arguments or prove points that may not be accurate in the big picture.

Regardless of where you sit, statistics play a vital role in the sports world. In Thoroughbred breeding, they be used to quantify quality, show trends and enlighten others.

For more than 30 years, Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred has provided statistics for readers to pour over. Each year, this edition includes an alphabetical listing of state-bred stakes winners, breeding statistics from The Jockey Club on mares bred by local stallions, stakes horses by local stallions, and more.

Want to see a list of New Jersey-bred millionaires? Turn to page 111. Or find West Virginia breeders of stakes winners for the year? See page 147. How many mares were bred to Maryland stallions the past 15 years? Go to page 109. Who led Virginia-breds in earnings last season? Page 137. How many South Carolina-bred stakes winners per year since 2011? Kindly turn to page 135.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred uses a variety of sources to compile this trove. Each state's breeders' association provides background on its organization and programs, and when available, statistics on the individual state fund program.

The Jockey Club supplies breeding statistics for each state. The shaded boxes throughout the statistical section show mares bred, foals born, earnings by state-bred runners, along with a running history of those numbers.

The Jockey Club has similar information available in its State Fact Books section on its website. But Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred provides numbers going back for more than a decade. The Jockey Club also provides an annual Report of Mares Bred/Live Foal Report for all stallions in its database on a state-by-state basis.

Mid-Atlantic-bred stakes horses are highlighted, and stakes winners have brief bios, which include pedigree, breeder, plus the owner and trainer at the time the runner last won a stakes, in addition to a listing of stakes performances for the year.

Leading state-bred runners for the year – by earnings and wins – are found within these pages, as is an alphabetical listing of the breeders of state-bred stakes winners.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred utilizes The Jockey Club Information System's database for state-bred runners lists and stallion progeny figures. TJCIS includes information from the Northern and Southern Hemispheres, the most comprehensive numbers available.

Stallions with runners in Southern Hemisphere countries have those figures added to year-end totals (including new 2-year-olds in South America, Australia and New Zealand who launched careers in November and December).

Statistics in these pages can be used as the reader sees fit. Follow breeding trends, recap a runner's season, find out how much a state breeders' fund paid out, get the track record for a stallion.

If Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred helps you settle an argument with a statistical non-believer, you're welcome. As always, additional information can be found on the internet. But these pages give a comprehensive overview of the previous season, in one spot. Pick it up, turn to a page, explore, get lost in the numbers.

If nothing else, realize that annual statistics prove one thing – there is a rich and bountiful industry in this region that should never be overlooked.

And now you've got the numbers to prove it.

Delaware Certified Thoroughbred Program celebrates 2024 leaders on Owners Day

JESSE CARIS

DCTP's Vincent Moscarelli, Delaware Thoroughbred Racing Commissioner Richard Monkman and Delaware Secretary of Agriculture Don Clifton (right) present Caprice's leading certified horse awards to Joe and Lesley Cassidy, standing in for owners Greg and Caroline Bentley.

The Delaware Certified program presented their annual awards on the 33rd annual Owners Day, Sept. 12, 2025. A trophy was awarded to the certifier of the horse with the highest Delaware Certified earnings at Delaware Park for the 2024 race meet. Here are the results of the individual categories:

Leading certified horse and leading 2-year-old filly: CAPRICE, certified by Runnymoore Racing at Dreamtime Stables, Townsend.

Caprice earned $34,750 in Delaware Certified Bonuses, winning three out four starts at Delaware Park, including the Blue Hen and Small Wonder Stakes. Racing for her breeders Gregory and Caroline Bentley in the name of their Runnymoore Racing and trained by Cathal A. Lynch, the Golden Lad filly won six times and was second once in seven starts.

Leading 2-year-old colt or gelding: IT'S HAMMERTIME, certified by ZWP Stable Inc. and Non Stop Stable at Marlyn Meadow, Middletown.

Leading 3-year-old colt or gelding: INTREPID'S LEGACY, certified by Paul L. Fowler Jr. at Marlyn Meadow, Middletown.

Leading 3-year-old filly: SPENCER TIARA, certified by Elizabeth Merryman at La Rain Farm, Middletown.

Leading 4-year-old and up, colt or gelding and claiming horse of the year: SPIKEZONE, certified by Troy Johnson at Ness @Sharp Farm, Middletown. Trained by Jamie Ness, he won 11 of 14 starts in 2024, including four consecutive at Delaware Park.

Leading 4-year-old and up, filly or mare: PRINCESS JAVONCIA, certified by Mike Azer at Krygier Farm Middletown.

Leading Certifier
RUNNYMOORE RACING: Winner of $70,767.50 in certifier bonuses. Made 48 starts with 13 different horses who accounted for 10 wins, 12 seconds, and seven thirds. The top runner was leading horse of 2024 Caprice.

Graded winner

MARYLAND HORSE BREEDERS ASSOCIATION
Since 1929

Maryland Horse Breeders Association

The Maryland Horse Breeders Association (MHBA) has been the leading horse industry advocate in the state since its founding in 1929. It functions as an informational resource for horse breeders and owners, for the media, for national, community and governmental organizations and for the general public.

As a service organization, the MHBA provides industry information, educational opportunities and legislative representation to its membership, who include breeders, owners, trainers and horse enthusiasts of all kinds. The MHBA publishes a weekly e-mail bulletin and a monthly newsletter, Maryland Horse, as well as Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred magazine.

The Maryland Horse Library & Education Center, operated by the Maryland Horse Foundation (the charitable arm of the MHBA), officially opened in December 2022 and is the largest of its kind on the east coast, its shelves holding thousands of books dedicated exclusively to horses.

In addition, the MHBA maintains several websites: MarylandThoroughbred.com, a resource for news and information on Maryland breeding and racing; MidAtlanticTB.com, which carries regional news, information on the magazine, and access to the digital edition of Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred; marylandmillion.com for news and events about Maryland's Day at the Races; and mdthoroughbredhalloffame.com which showcases full biographies of the Maryland-bred Hall of Fame horses.

The MHBA helped innovate, and now administers, several state-oriented incentive programs. Both the Maryland-Bred Race Fund, created by statute in 1962 for Thoroughbreds foaled in Maryland, and the Maryland Million, chartered in 1985 for Thoroughbreds conceived in Maryland, were the first programs of their kind anywhere in the U.S. ✹

The Maryland Fund: Maryland-bred awards

The Maryland Fund was created by the General Assembly in 1962. Maryland was the first state to develop a legislated incentive program to encourage the improvement of Thoroughbred breeding and racing.

In Maryland, there are six categories through which monies for Maryland-breds are made available: 1) purse money for races for registered Maryland-breds; 2) awards for owners of registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; 3) awards for breeders of registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; 4) awards for stallions who sire registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; and 5) bonus awards for the highest-earning 2 and 3-year-olds shown at the annual MHBA yearling show and 6) an allocation for purses/bonuses for Maryland-sired horses.

Currently, the Maryland Fund receives slightly less than 1 percent of the total mutuel handle and breakage from Laurel, and receives approximately 1.5 percent of the mutuel handle and 5.0 percent of the breakage at Timonium.

Owner awards are paid by the purse account to the owners of all registered Maryland-breds when they finish first, second or third in any race other than stakes. Bonuses are paid to eligible horses in the form of developer (15 percent) and owner (15 percent) bonuses in relation to the horse's share of the purse.

Breeder and stallion awards are paid for the registered Maryland-bred who finishes first, second or third in any race in Maryland. Beginning Jan. 1, 2026, breeder awards are 24 percent of a horse's share of the purse; stallion awards are 8 percent. An additional 8 percent breeder bonus is paid on horses born prior to 2023 who are Maryland-bred and Maryland-sired placing first in a maiden race. For horses born in 2023 and after, breeder awards will be 33.6 percent for Maryland-bred and Maryland-sired horses who finish first, second or third in all overnight races in Maryland (40 percent more than the bonus for non-Maryland-sired Maryland-breds). In stakes races, the award is based on the first $100,000 of the gross purse.

In 2025, breeder, stallion, owner and developer bonuses were paid on races held at Colonial Downs and Delaware Park during July and August while racing was dark in Maryland.

In order to earn a breeder award, the horse must be registered as a Maryland-bred. In order to earn a stallion award, the horse must be registered as a Maryland-bred, and the sire must be registered with the MHBA, in addition to having been standing in Maryland at the time the horse was conceived.

The Maryland Fund program is administered by the Maryland Racing Commission with the assistance and advice of the Maryland Fund Advisory Committee chaired by Terry West, a member of the Maryland Racing Commission. Under the direction of the commission, the actual implementation of the fund, including maintaining the Maryland-bred registry and computing and distributing all bonus awards, is performed by the MHBA.

Breeder and stallion award percentages are evaluated on a bi-annual basis on the advice of the Maryland Fund Advisory Committee. Owner award percentages are determined by a separate agreement. (For Maryland Million day, breeder and stallion award percentages are determined annually.) Awards are paid as soon as practical.

The stakes program is planned on a meet by meet basis and is based on projected track handles for the coming year. ✹

2025 Maryland sires

Statistics compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems for stallions who currently stand or concluded their careers in the state and are represented by earnings of $1,000 or more in 2025. Statistics are for racing through December 31, 2025, and include foreign results for all Northern and Southern Hemisphere countries as reported to TJCIS. †Indicates stallion represented by first crop to race. Explanation for abbreviations: Foals—total registered foals; Strs.—starters; Sts.—starts; Wnrs.—winners; %—percentage of winners from starters; SW—stakes winners.

Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey

The Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey is an organization dedicated to fostering and promoting the breeding and ownership of Thoroughbred horses in the state of New Jersey. Active since 1945, the association's primary role is to administer a New Jersey-bred incentive program for breeders, stallion owners and racehorse owners.

Benefits to members include a subscription to Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred, discounted member rates for foal registrations, access to online pedigree reports and manufacturer's discounts for farm equipment through NTRA Advantage and Equine Equipment.

The association also maintains a close alliance with the New Jersey Racing Commission, the New Jersey Department of Agriculture and the Equine Advisory Board, as well as the New Jersey Horse Council. ✹

New Jersey Breeders' Program

Requirements for eligibility to the New Jersey Breeders' Program:

(a) In order to be eligible to enter and start in races exclusively for New Jersey bred foals, each New Jersey bred foal must be registered with the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey (TBANJ).

(b) To qualify for such registration, the said horse must have been foaled in the State of New Jersey by a resident New Jersey mare or a non-resident New Jersey mare.

(c) A resident New Jersey mare is a mare that resides in New Jersey continuously from Nov. 1 of the year prior to the foaling through the date of foaling. A mare purchased at public auction subsequent to Oct. 17 of the year prior to foaling, is considered a resident New Jersey mare provided that she commences residence in New Jersey within two weeks of her purchase and continuously resides in New Jersey through the date of foaling. For the purpose of this paragraph, public auction is defined as an auction generally regarded as a public auction in the Thoroughbred horse industry and recognized as same by the TBANJ.

2. A non-resident New Jersey mare is a mare that has not returned to New Jersey by Nov. 1 of the year prior to foaling. The resulting foal can still be registered as a New Jersey-bred provided the mare is bred to a registered New Jersey stallion the season of the birth of said foal and remain in New Jersey for a continuous period of 90 days after foaling.

3. A "New Jersey stallion" is a stallion resident and standing in the State of New Jersey the full breeding season, commonly understood to be the period from Feb. 1 through July 1 of the subject year. If a stallion is brought into New Jersey subsequent to the start of the breeding season, he may be approved as a "New Jersey stallion" by the New Jersey Racing Commission upon recommendation of the Board of Trustees of the TBANJ provided that he stands and is a resident in New Jersey for the remainder of the breeding season. For those stallions brought into New Jersey subsequent to the commencement of the breeding season, approval by the TBANJ as a "New Jersey stallion" is only for the period from the date of approval through the end of the breeding season. All "New Jersey stallions" must be registered with the TBANJ and all appropriate fees paid prior to Feb. 1 of the breeding season or, in the case of a stallion entering the State subsequent to the start of the breeding season, prior to serving the first mare. Failure to meet the above criteria solely by reason of death of the stallion does not disqualify said stallion as a "New Jersey stallion."

Breeders qualify for awards when the owner of a mare registers the foal with the TBANJ. The breeder will receive a percentage based on what that foal earns when finishing first through fourth at a New Jersey track in both open and restricted New Jersey-bred races.

Award percentages for breeders – 35 percent* is paid if the foal is by a registered New Jersey stallion; 25 percent* if the foal is by a stallion standing in a state other than New Jersey.

In order for stallion owners to qualify for awards, the owner must register the stallion annually with the TBANJ. Stallion owners will receive an award equal to 10 percent* of what all foals by said stallion earn when finishing first through fourth at a New Jersey track in both open and restricted New Jersey-bred races.

Owners of New Jersey-bred horses will receive an award equal to 10 percent* when their New Jersey-bred horse finishes first through fourth at a New Jersey track in open races. ✹

PENNSYLVANIA HORSE BREEDERS ASSOCIATION

Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA), a not-for-profit organization founded in 1948, has as its main priority protection of Pennsylvania's Thoroughbred breeding and racing industries. These industries are important agricultural institutions that play significant roles in the state's economy, generating tremendous tax revenues for the state and making substantial contributions to the state's economy in general, while helping to sustain Pennsylvania's rural character.

Working with other industry leaders over the years, PHBA has attained several goals that have had far-reaching benefits. One such goal was the establishment of the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund, which became a reality in 1974. The fund program, administered by PHBA, has evolved into one of the country's most lucrative incentive programs. ✹

Pennsylvania Breeding Fund

Pennsylvania's Breeding Fund program distributes more money, on a per foal basis, than nearly every other state-bred program now in operation. Established in 1974, the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund has grown from a disbursement of $65,000 in its initial year of operation to over $27.5 million on average annually the last 13 years.

Thoroughbred breeding and racing is a high-risk enterprise, but for breeders of PA-Breds, owners of stallions standing in this state, and owners of PA-Breds racing at PARX Racing, Penn National and Presque Isle Downs, the added rewards can be one factor that makes for a winning stable.

The Pennsylvania Breeding Fund is financed by a percentage of the state's racing fund, after expenses, and slot revenues. It provides for individual award payments (breeder and stallion awards), overnight races for PA-Breds, purse bonus supplements, PA-Bred stakes races, and reimbursement of expenses incurred by the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA) in its role as program administrator.

While benefitting owners and breeders with its incentive awards, the Fund serves a wider purpose, helping to support live racing at PARX Racing, Penn National and Presque Isle Downs. By making it worthwhile for owners to race PA-Breds in their native state, the Breeding Fund program channels a steady supply of competitive runners to the Pennsylvania tracks, and makes it less likely that our homegrown product will be lured to competing race tracks within the region.

Pennsylvania's breeding and racing industry contributes approximately $1.6 billion annually to the state's economy, so it is clear that the state has a vested interest in supporting these activities.

By law, PHBA is responsible for administering the Breeding Fund program for the State Horse Racing Commission, and maintaining an up-to-date registry of PA-Breds and Pennsylvania stallions.

A Thoroughbred foal born in the state of Pennsylvania and registered as such with The Jockey Club is eligible for Pennsylvania-bred registration with the PHBA if one of the following conditions is met:

1) The dam of the foal resided continuously in Pennsylvania since Dec. 1 of the year of conception through foaling. Mares not being bred back will fall under this category.
2) The dam of the foal was purchased at a public sale after Dec. 1 of the year of conception and brought into Pennsylvania within 14 days of the date of purchase (60 days if outside the U.S.) and remained continuously through foaling. During the year of foaling, the foal or its dam spent at least ninety (90) days in the state. Private transactions are not eligible for domicile waiver.
3) The dam of the foal arrived after Dec. 1 of the year of conception, foaled in Pennsylvania and was bred back to a registered PA stallion standing in Pennsylvania and the dam of the foal resided sixty (60) consecutive days during the year of foaling.

There are two distinctions when registering a PA-Bred foal: those sired by registered Pennsylvania stallions and those sired by non-registered stallions.

PA-Breds have preferred starter status within the conditions in most non-restricted overnight races. The preference is claimed by trainers at the time of entry.

RACING INCENTIVES

- Owner bonus of up to 40 percent of purse earned for first, second and third-place finishes on all unrestricted overnight races.
- Breeder awards are paid on purses earned which include owner bonuses.
- More than 250 restricted races offered, and 20 restricted stakes which include five PA-Bred, PA-Sired stakes for 3-year-olds and 3 and up.

BREEDING INCENTIVES

- Breeder awards of 40 percent in all PA races; for first, second and third-place purses earned for registered PA-Sired PA-Breds; and 20 percent for all non-PA-sired PA-breds.
- Stallion awards of 10 percent paid to the owner of a registered Pennsylvania stallion for purses earned by registered Pennsylvania-Breds in all races at Pennsylvania tracks. ✹

South Carolina Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association

The mission of the South Carolina Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association (SCTOBA) is to promote the Thoroughbred horse industry in the state and throughout the region.

The SCTOBA works to create awareness of the tremendous economic impact the Thoroughbred horse industry has in the state. The organization is a blend of members who have interest in the various aspects of the Thoroughbred business – breeding, training and racing.

The organization reaches out to partner with sister organizations such as the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation of South Carolina and other regional state associations. In doing so, the SCTOBA looks to provide leadership and solutions to the challenges presented by the Thoroughbred business.

Our farms and training centers represent our state across the country with graduates continuously winning stakes events. ✹

2025 South Carolina sires

Statistics compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems for stallions who currently stand or concluded their careers in the state and are represented by earnings of $1,000 or more in 2025. Statistics are for racing through December 31, 2025, and include foreign results for all Northern and Southern Hemisphere countries as reported to TJCIS. †Indicates stallion represented by first crop to race. Explanation for abbreviations: Foals—total registered foals; Strs.—starters; Sts.—starts; Wnrs.—winners; %—percentage of winners from starters; SW—stakes winners.

South Carolina-bred runners and stakes horses of 2025

This list represents all 2025 starters with earnings of $5,000 or more in all countries as reported to The Jockey Club Information Systems. Final state statistics at end are the total for all state-bred runners. Stakes horses are indicated in bold type—winners in upper case letters, placed horses in upper and lower case. Foreign runners' records are calculated from all available sources, however may be complete.

Virginia Thoroughbred Association

The Virginia Thoroughbred Association (VTA) was organized in 1942 to cultivate further development of the Commonwealth's heritage as a producer of quality Thoroughbred horses.

With the passage of parimutuel racing legislation, the VTA has vastly expanded the scope of its operations, both to assist in developing rules under which a parimutuel breeders' fund is administered by the Virginia Racing Commission, and to address the opportunities racing holds forth to strengthen and enhance Virginia's standing as one of the world's important centers for Thoroughbred nurseries.

Above all, the VTA is a service organization whose main goal is to assist members in achieving success with Thoroughbreds. ✹

Virginia Breeders' Fund

Eligibility for registering foals with the Virginia Breeders' Fund:

A Virginia-bred horse is a horse foaled in Virginia, whose dam resides at a Virginia participating facility from Sept. 1 of the year of the foal's conception through the foal's date of birth, is registered by The Jockey Club, and is registered with the VTA.

If the dam of the foal was purchased at a public sale after Sept. 1 of the year of the foal's conception and brought to a Virginia participating facility within 15 days after the purchase date (60 days if purchased outside the US), the mare can meet the residency requirement if she remains at a Virginia participating facility through the date of the foal's birth. The sale must be a completed public sale or a private transaction as a result of a RNA at the public sale. The mare report is due within 30 days of arrival in Virginia.

The fee to register a Virginia-bred foal is $25 by Dec. 31 of its weanling year ($125 non-VTA member fee). If registered as a yearling the fee increases to $50 ($150 for a non-member) or if registered as a 2-year-old or older the fee is $200 ($300 for a non-member).

A Virginia-sired horse is a horse registered with The Jockey Club, conceived in Virginia, foaled outside the state and sired by a Virginia stallion registered with the VTA. The fee to register a Virginia-sired horse is $25 ($125 for a non-member).

Stallion registration:

Virginia stallions must register with the Virginia Thoroughbred Association annually by Dec. 31. The annual registration makes a Virginia stallion owner eligible to receive stallion awards based on the performance of the resulting foal crop from the breeding season in which the stallion is registered (for example Virginia stallions registered in 2025 are eligible for awards based on the performance of their 2026 foal crop). The fee to register a stallion is $100 ($200 non-member fee).

Fund distribution:

The Virginia Breeders' Fund is generated by 1 percent of every dollar wagered on live racing, OTBs and ADW in Virginia. The Fund also receives .025 percent from the gross proceeds of Historic Horse Racing. Each year the Virginia Racing Commission approves how the money in the fund is allocated.

A portion of the fund is set aside for payments to breeders of registered Virginia-Breds that placed first through third in open races anywhere in North America (awards are earned for restricted races in Virginia). There is a $25,000 cap on any single award.

A portion is set aside for payments to owners of registered Virginia Stallions whose Virginia-Bred offspring placed first through third in open races at any racetrack in North America.

See VABred.org for program details. ✹

Virginia-bred runners and stakes horses of 2025

This list represents all 2025 starters with earnings of $50,000 or more and all stakes horses in countries reported to The Jockey Club Information Systems. Final state statistics at end are the total for all state-bred runners. Stakes horses are indicated in bold type—winners in upper case letters, placed horses in upper and lower case. Foreign runners' records are calculated from all available sources, however may be incomplete.

2025 Virginia Certified Awards

A Virginia Certified horse is a horse registered by The Jockey Club, conceived and foaled outside of Virginia but maintains residency in Virginia for at least six (6) consecutive months prior to December 31 of its 2-year-old year. The horse must reside at a registered Virginia facility, where the horse is available for inspection by a VACTP official.

In 2025 Developers of Virginia Certified, Virginia-Bred (foals of 2021 and later) and Sired (foals of 2021 and later) horses earned a 21 percent bonus on the winning purse when they won any open race in the Mid-Atlantic region. A 10 percent bonus was earned for wins in Mid-Atlantic state restricted races. The developer is defined as the person or entity listed on the chart as owner when the horse makes its first start. Bonuses are earned for wins in NY, NJ, PA, DE, MD, WV, VA and all NSA sanctioned meets in the Mid-Atlantic region. There is a $10,000 cap on any single award. Out of state wins during the Colonial Downs meet are not eligible for awards. Wins in Virginia restricted races do not earn awards. Bonuses will not be paid for WV wins beginning with 2023 foals. Please see VABRED.ORG program details.

West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association

The West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association promotes the Thoroughbred breeding and racing industries in West Virginia through the financial incentives of breeders' awards programs.

The WVTBA sponsors races and activities throughout the year. An annual West Virginia-bred and/or sired horse show offers classes with cash awards and trophies. Additional activities include seminars and an annual awards dinner in late February/early March. The WVTBA is part of the West Virginia Fest in June in Charles Town, and hosts an annual meeting in November.

In 1968, when the West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association was started, the West Virginia foal crop numbered less than 70. The numbers didn't increase much above 100 until the Development Fund was begun in 1984. Now several hundred West Virginia-bred and/or sired foals are born each year.

Please contact the WVTBA for registration rules and fees.

Membership dues are $150 per year. If paid by June 30, members receive reduced registration rates for West Virginia-bred and/or sired horses. Please see the WVTBA website for other benefits and check out our Facebook page for news.

Call or write the WVTBA for information on how you may participate and benefit from our outstanding program. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday. ✹

It PAYS to have a West Virginia-Bred and/or -Sired Horse!

WV BREEDERS PROGRAMS OFFER SOME OF THE BEST INCENTIVES IN THE NATION:

- A minimum of three accredited races are written every day at Charles Town exclusively for registered WV-bred and/or -sired horses.
- West Virginia has the only program in the country that permits horses to win state-bred races that do not count against the horse's lifetime open conditions.
- The WV Thoroughbred Development Fund distributes over $4.5 million to breeders, owners, and sire owners of accredited WV-bred and/or -sired horses based the horse's annual earnings at Charles Town and Mountaineer Park racetracks.
- The West Virginia Breeders Classics pays out almost $1 million in purses for WV-bred and/or -sired horses. It is held annually on the 2nd Saturday in October.
- $800,000 in purses are allocated for up to sixteen WV accredited stakes races during the year.
- Supplemental Purse Awards of up to 10% of the winner's share of the purse to the owner, breeder, and/or sire owner of the accredited WV-bred and/or -sired winner.
- West Virginia offers year-round racing with approximately 165 race days per year.

2025 West Virginia-bred stakes winners

2025 Statistical & Auction Review Edition

Some numbers about Mid-Alantic Thoroughbreds you'll find in this year's statistical edition.

2 Mid-Atlantic-breds became millionaires in 2025. Maryland-bred Mindframe led by lifetime earnings with $2,054,580. Veteran Virginia-bred Repo Rocks surpassed the milestone at age 7, and concluded the year with career earnings of $1,150,466.

125 millionaires all-time represent the region through 2025. Pennsylvania leads with 36, followed by Maryland and Virginia, tied at 34, New Jersey (12) and West Virginia (nine). Maryland-bred Cigar remains the richest, with $9,999,815.

6 Mid-Atlantic-breds won graded stakes – Maryland led with four, followed by Pennsylvania and New Jersey with one each. Four were Grade 1 winners: Maryland-breds Mindframe, Seismic Beauty and Splendora, and New Jersey-bred Eclipse Award winner Book'em Danno.

22 mares produced more than one Mid-Atlantic-bred stakes horse in 2025. Three produced three – Cyndy and the late John McKee's Holy Pow Wow, the dam of stakes winner Duncan Idaho and stakes-placed Muad'dib and Overnight Pow Wow; St. Omer's Farm's Katarica Disco, dam of stakes winners Disco Ebo and Fore Harp, and stakes-placed Smooth B; and Casey's Legacy's Tricky Windsor, dam of stakes winner Tricks R for Juba and stakes-placed Candy Tricks and Juba's Hat Trick.

6 stakes wins for Maryland-bred 3-year-old Barbadian Runner (Robert Hilton Memorial, Maryland Million Classic, Richard Small, Jersey Derby, Miracle Wood and Spectacular Bid), to top all in 2025. Maryland-bred steeplechaser Keys Discount won five. Mindframe and Book'em Danno each won three graded stakes.

4,253 Mid-Atlantic-breds made 27,179 starts in 2025 – 2,083 won 3,605 races. Total earnings were $123,064,370, for an average of $28,936 per starter.

3 Maryland-breds sold for $1 million or more in 2025 at North American sales, topped by Grade 1-winning Seismic Beauty for $2.5 million as a racing or broodmare prospect. After the sale, her Tennessee-based buyers Randy and Jenny Boyd of Boyd Racing planned to return her to trainer Bob Baffert for a 2026 campaign. Also selling for seven figures were juveniles Romeo, for $1.7 million at Fasig-Tipton Kentucky's July Horses of Racing Age sale, and Epic Quest, a $1 million Nyquist colt at the Ocala Breeders' Sales March 2-Year-Olds in Training sale. A third Maryland-bred juvenile, sold in France at the Arqana Breeze Up Sale in Deauville in May to Godolphin, brought €1 million (approximately $1.125 million USD). The colt by Maxfield has since been named National History. A Pennsylvania-bred son of Justify and half-brother to Breeders' Cup winner Caravel was the most expensive yearling from the region, with Qatar Racing spending $1.4 million at Saratoga.

2025 sales horses by Mid-Atlantic stallions

The following results, for 2025, represent all stallions who stand or completed their stud careers in the Mid-Atlantic region. Categories are divided by age groups—weanlings, yearlings and 2-year-olds. Information is provided as follows: Stallion's name, year of birth, sire and state where stallion was last reported as standing at stud; name of foal, sex, dam, sale code, buyer and price. RNA (reserve not attained) includes the last bid recorded, shown in parentheses. Sales results were compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems. Data provided or compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems generally is accurate, but occasionally errors and omissions occur as a result of incorrect data received by others, mistakes in processing and other causes. Therefore, The Jockey Club Information Systems makes no representations of warranties, express or implied, including those of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, as to any matter whatsoever, including but not limited to, the accuracy of any information, product, program or service furnished hereunder and all such information, products, programs and/or services are accepted on an "as is" basis. All results are for North American sales only.
